VOL. IX—NO. 2663. NEW-YORK, TUESDAY, APRIL 3, 1860. PRICE TWO CENTS.

CONNECTICUT ELECTION.

The Opening Skirmish of the Presidential Fight.

Probable Success of the Republican Gubernatorial and Legislative Tickets.

GENERAL RESULTS.

FROM THE PALLADIUM OFFICE, (REP.)

New-Haven, Monday, April 2.

In 85 towns, or more than half the State heard from, Buckingham, Republican, leads over 1,000. This includes heavy majorities in Middletown, Waterbury, and most of the Democratic Districts. The House is Republican by an increased majority, and the Senate probably the same.

FROM THE HARTFORD COURANT OFFICE, (REP.)

Hartford, Monday, April 2.

It is impossible at the present time to give any correct opinion as to the result on Governor. It is believed, however, that Buckingham is elected.

FROM THE TIMES OFFICE, (DEM.)

Hartford, Monday, April 2.

Our returns show a net gain for Seymour of 1,641, in thirty-seven towns and cities.

Representatives—Two Republicans are elected in Fairfield. There is a tie in Stratford. One Democrat is elected in Bridgeport, one in Westport, one in Weston, one in Easton, one in Monroe, one in Huntington, and one in Trumbull.

The Democrats are now marching in procession and cheering loudly. Bonfires are burning in the streets, and the greatest enthusiasm is manifested.

Norwalk elects two Republican Representatives, and the Republican legislative ticket was also successful in Ridgefield.

Danbury—Wildman, Republican Senator, 34 majority. Sheriff—Seely, Republican, 10 majority. This is a reduction in the Republican vote of nearly three-quarters, as compared with the last election.

Bethel—For Senator, 37 Republican majority.

Eleventh Senatorial District—Republican majority, 26—a decrease of 100.

HARTFORD COUNTY.

	Seymour, (Dem.)	Buckingham, (Op.)
Hartford	349	—

Courant Office,
Hartford, Monday, April 2—10 P. M.

Seymour in this city has 349 majority. Hartford County, with four towns to hear from, gives Buckingham 7,956, Seymour 8,268—making a Republican loss of 361 in the County, if the four towns to be heard from vote as they did last year.

Senators.—Two Democrats are elected and one Republican—the same as last year. The Republicans gain two Representatives in the County.

NEW-HAVEN COUNTY.

	Seymour, (Dem.)	Buckingham, (Op.)
New-Haven	685	—
Waterbury	135	—

Waterbury.—The election in this town has resulted in the triumph of the Democrats. The total vote polled is 1,600, of which Seymour has 867; Buckingham, 732—Seymour's majority, 135. The Democrats carry the entire State ticket by large majorities. For Representatives, Brown (Dem.) leads Welton (Rep.) 172; Coe (Dem.) leads Chase (Rep.) 134. Of the adjoining towns, as far as heard from, five towns give a Republican majority, and nine a Democratic majority. Of these fourteen towns, the majority for Buckingham is 53. The Democrats appear to take their victory quietly, making no unusual demonstration.

OUR LATEST DISPATCHES.

Hartford, Monday, April 3—2 A. M.

Hartford, New-Haven, Tolland, New-London and Windham Counties give Buckingham 1,100 majority. The returns of Middlesex, Fairfield and Litchfield Counties will not vary the result a great deal.

Buckingham is elected, without doubt, and both branches of the Legislature are Republican by decided majorities, the House by a handsome increase over last year. This result insures a Republican United States Senator. It has been one of the hardest fought battles ever witnessed in this State.

New-Haven, Tuesday, April 3—2 A. M.

Eighteen towns in Hartford County give 398 Democratic majority. The other towns gave last year 102 Republican majority. The majority for Seymour in that County is 300.

New-Haven County, complete, gives Seymour 978 majority.

New-London County, complete, gives 600 Republican majority.

Windham County, complete, 1,116 Republican majority.

Fairfield County, eight towns, 126 Republican majority; it will probably be 200.

Litchfield and Tolland Counties gave 462 majority last year. The few returns now received show Republican gains.

Middlesex County gave 228 Democratic majority last year, and now in seven towns the Democrats gain 108, mostly in Middletown. The remaining seven towns, it is estimated, will make Seymour's majority in the county 350.

The House is Republican by nearly two-thirds.

The Senate, by returns and estimates, stands 13 Republicans to 8 Democrats.

If the towns to be heard from come in the same as last year, Buckingham, Republican, will be elected by about 1,000 majority.

FROM THE PACIFIC SIDE.

The Overland Mail of March 11—Still More Glowing Accounts from Washoe and Napa—Mining in Oregon—General and Commercial News.

Meloy's Station, Sunday, April 1.

The Overland Mail coach, with San Francisco dates to March 11, arrived at this station at about 12 o'clock last night.

San Francisco, Sunday, March 11—12 M.

No arrivals. Sailed on the 10th, Ship Emily, Farnam, for Callao.

There is not much for this mail.

During five days of last week the San Francisco Branch Mint coined $595,000 in double eagles.

MINING INTELLIGENCE.

Thirty tons of Washoe silver-ore, from the Ophir mine, has been smelted at the chemical laboratory of Joseph Mosheimer & Co., San Francisco, yielding an average of over $3,000 per ton, or about $100,000 in all. The company received a little more than $400 per ton for extracting the silver. Mr. Mosheimer is making preparations to establish a large smelting laboratory at Carson Valley.

Mr. W. S. Taylor, a reliable merchant, has just returned from the Washoe Mines. He informs the Alta California that he found 2,000 people at Virginia City, eating what they could get, sleeping on floors and in tents, and living generally in 1849-style. He went down 100 feet into the Mexican claim, in the Comstock Lead. Three men were engaged in digging the ore, two in carrying it up to the surface, and three in separating the rich ore from the poor. The vein is about ten feet wide. The ore pays $5,000 to the ton, and grows richer as they go deeper. Tunnels are being dug to reach other points of this lead. A tunnel is to be run 800 feet between the present mining places, and will go under Virginia City. His account is considered by the Alta California as entirely reliable.

Mr. Alpheus Bull, a banker, is now at the Washoe mines. He writes to a friend as follows:

"The country is unknown, and much that is said must be taken with a great deal of allowance. I saw but two claims that were paying an ounce of the mineral; the balance are undeveloped: hence their value is all conjecture. To me it appears to be a mineral country, and the relative success of the adventurers will, I apprehend, correspond with our early gold seekers in California."

A correspondent of the Sacramento Union writes from the Dalles, Oregon, under date of Feb. 10, concerning the new Similkameen gold mines, that the reports of rich gold fields are confirmed, but that the extent of them is not yet determined. Parties that have come into our valley the past week for supplies report that for 70 miles good prospects are found, and that the richest of all, some 40 miles from here, is the bar that was first discovered. Fifty-three men left this place for the mines yesterday. The tide has fairly set in, and nothing can prevent a rush to the mines. The snow has left us, and farmers have commenced putting in their Spring crops.

The last Yreka Union says that quartz mines in Jackson County, Oregon, continue yielding immense profits. From the accounts given, they excel anything yet known in California. A responsible merchant of San Francisco has paid a visit to these mines and returned. He called at the Bulletin office, and exhibited specimens of quartz taken from the Ish mine, seven feet below the surface. The ore in these specimens is evenly distributed through the rock, as if it had been broken and rounded into small pebble shapes and stirred in while the mass was hot. The owners of the mine claim that the quartz taken from it is worth $20,000 to the ton. They have already taken $200,000 worth out and can see as much more of equal richness in the small opening made in the ledge.

Valuable quartz discoveries are also reported at Yreka, a lead having been opened in the mountain at the head of Miner-street, from which $2,500 was taken the first day after its discovery.

MISCELLANEOUS.

The bill authorizing Butte County to subscribe $200,000 towards extending the Sacramento Valley Railroad northward to Oroville, has become a law.

The California Stage Company has expressed a willingness to carry a daily mail between California and Portland, Oregon, for the same pay the steamship company receives for carrying a tri-monthly mail between San Francisco and Portland.

At last accounts there was much activity in the organization of companies at the Napa quicksilver mines, and the work of opening them had commenced in six different places, creating a considerable demand for labor.

A telegraphic dispatch from Yreka last night says that George Ish and three others concerned in the Ish claim at Jacksonville, Oregon, have arrived at Yreka en route for the Atlantic States. A ledge of almost solid gold has been found on their claim twenty feet below the surface. Thomas Corough was offered $80,000 for his fifth interest, but refused it, saying that the wealth of the Rothschilds would not tempt him to sell it.

Pennsylvania Legislature.

AN ADJOURNMENT PROBABLE TO-DAY—THE SUNBURY AND ERIE RAILROAD.

Harrisburg, Pa., Monday, April 2.

The Legislature will adjourn sine die to-morrow. Both Houses are still in session hurrying through the consideration of the calendar. The Committee of Conference on the Sunbury and Erie Railroad bill reported it in an amended form, postponing all foreclosure claims, the sale of the road, and other embarrassments under which the Company labor, until the 1st of May, 1861, and appropriating $600,000 to satisfy creditors, claimants for labor, materials, &c. The report met the concurrence of both Houses. The Committee of Conference reported that the General Appropriation bill passed by the Senate was rejected by the House. The Governor will call an extra session if the bill is not passed before the adjournment. The principal difference is in the matter of the salaries of the Judges of the Supreme Court, the House demanding that they shall be increased. The salaries of the Judges in Philadelphia and Alleghany County are increased by the Committee's report. The House is still in session.

The letter assures the delegates that they will be admitted to the Convention, and counsels them to pay no attention to what newspapers may say; and advises them to come by the Southern routes, intimating that funds will be provided for their expenses.

St. Johns, N. F., Monday, April 2.

Messages for Europe to go forward per steamship Circassian to Galway can be filed at No. 21 Wall-street to-day, and up to noon to-morrow. This is undoubtedly the speediest means of communication with Europe, as was shown by the last eastward trip of the Prince Albert, when dispatches from New-Orleans were delivered in London, Havre and Liverpool inside of seven days from date. The tolls on any message left at the above named office before to-morrow noon will be refunded in case the dispatch fails to be put on board the Circassian.

Special Dispatch to the New-York Times.

Washington, Monday, April 2.

INDIAN AFFAIRS.

The annuity goods for the Indians in the Eastern District of Washington Territory will be dispatched over Lieut. Mullan's new wagon road, and distributed at Hellgate. The Expedition will be thirty-five days in reaching Fort Benton, but the good condition of the route in question leaves no doubt that it will be open in season to permit the movement of the troops, and the transportation of Indian supplies. One hundred thousand dollars more will be required to make this route good during heavy rains.

The Indian Bureau is now vigorously occupied in drafting the necessary instructions, and making arrangements to remit funds, and carry out the Indian treaties in Oregon, the appropriation for that purpose having passed Congress.

Pursuant to instructions from the War Department, the commanding officer at Fort Ridgely, will detail one of the foot companies of artillery under his command, for detached service, to be stationed temporarily at Yellow Medicine, for the protection of the Indians on the reserve at that place. The officer in command is to communicate directly with the Department Head-quarters.

Secretary Cobb has appointed Murray Whalon, of Pennsylvania, secret agent of the Government on the Pacific coast, vice J. Ross Browne resigned.

REVOLUTIONARY CLAIMS.

The bill which Hon. R. E. Fenton, of New-York, introduced at the commencement of the present session, having received the action of the Committee to which it had been referred, has been reported in the House of Representatives without amendment, and is in a position to be taken up at any time for consideration. It proposes to allow the officers of the Revolutionary army and their heirs the life half pay which was promised them by the Continental Congress, deducting therefrom all sums which the Government ever paid by way of commutation certificates, or as pay under the act of May 15, 1828. Whatever balance may be due on this basis, is to be paid without interest. The bill also provides 160 acres of land to the surviving children of each Revolutionary soldier who served fourteen days, or was engaged in battle, &c. There is a strong feeling in Congress in favor of the bill, and it will doubtless be taken up in the House and passed at an early day.

MISCELLANEOUS.

Gen. Jefferson Davis is again suffering from inflammation of the eyes. The surgical operation performed on one, last Saturday, it is apprehended will result in the loss of both.

Washington is likely to be favored with a street railroad war equal to that lately waged in Baltimore. The Senate is about to pass a bill granting the franchise to a squad of speculators over the heads of citizens claiming the grant. The House will arrest such legislation.

ARMY NEWS.

The two Superintendents of the General Recruiting Service are ordered to organize at Fort Columbus and Newport Barracks, four companies of recruits; two at each dépôt, of seventy-five men, or as near that number as possible, for the troops serving in the Department of Oregon, each company to have four lance sergeants, four lance corporals and two musicians. Non-commissioned officers are to be selected from the permanent party. Should there be a deficiency of recruits at either place to organize two companies, the Superintendents are to notify each other of the fact, that the deficiency may be supplied from the dépôt having a surplus, and such recruits will join the deficient company at Jefferson Barracks.

Recruits will be detached to Jefferson Barracks the 20th inst., and will move on the 1st of May following from St. Louis, by the Missouri River to Fort Benton, thence to Fort Dallas, by the route passed over by Lieut. Mullan, of the Second Artillery. Brevet-Col. Robert C. Buchanan, of the Fourth Infantry, is assigned to the command, and will proceed to St. Louis in advance of the recruits, to superintend the arrangements of troops for the march. The other officers assigned to duty with the recruits are Capt. Lendrum, of the Third Artillery; Capt Jones, of the Fourth Infantry; Lieuts. Livingston, of the Third Artillery, Kantz, of the Fourth Infantry, and Kelton, of the Sixth Infantry, and Second-Lieut. Stoughton, of the Sixth Infantry, to report at Fort Columbus on the 15th inst. Brevet Col. Johnson, Acting Inspector-General, will inspect the recruits at Jefferson Barracks prior to their march from that post. On the arrival of the detachment at Fort Dallas, its distribution will be made under the orders of the commandor of the Department of Oregon.

All officers of the Second Dragoons, of the Fourth Artillery, and of the Tenth Infantry, absent from Forts Kearney and Laramie, and the Department of Utah, except those on special duty, will report in person at Fort Leavenworth on the 25th inst., for duty, with a detachment of recruits to leave that post about the 1st of May following for Camp Floyd.

All officers absent from the First Dragoons, and the Eighth Infantry, stationed in the Department; from the Regiment of Mounted Riflemen, the Fifth and Seventh Regiments of Infantry, except those on other special duty than the recruiting service, will report in person at Fort Leavenworth on 25th of July next, for duty, with a detachment of recruits, to leave that post about the 1st of August following for the Department of New-Mexico. All officers absent from the Third Regiment of Infantry, except those on special duty, will report in person on the 1st of July next at San Antonio, Texas, to the commanding officer of the Department of Texas.

Officers who may report according to the above instructions, will join their respective posts and companies after executing these special orders. Should any officer be prevented by ill health from obeying these orders, before he can be excused he must present the certificate of the officer of the Medical Staff of the Army, which certificate must distinctly set forth the inability of the officer to perform the journey. In all cases the officer will be informed whether such certificate has been accepted.

From the Associated Press.

Washington, Monday, April 2.

The case of the United States against Bolton, on an appeal from the Northern District Court of California, involving the title to three square leagues of San Francisco lands, was taken up in the Supreme Court to-day, William B. Reed making the opening argument for the United States. The Court, in view of the magnitude of the case, granted the request of Bolton's counsel, that three hours be allowed each for argument.

Col. Brown writes to the War Department, from Brownsville, that reports the most false and exaggerated are put in circulation by persons interested in fomenting trouble on the Rio Grande border, immediately before the leaving of the New-Orleans steamer, for the evident purpose of exercising an influence on public opinion in the States. Hence such reports should be received with the greatest caution. He adds that the Cortinas movement was a mere raid, and the accounts largely magnified.

The State Department has written a letter to our Consul, Mr. Helm, at Havana, commendatory of his partial success in behalf of Liano, a native Spaniard, but a naturalized citizen of the United States, who was summoned to military duty. In addition to other friendly offices, the Captain-General will submit the question to his Government, with a recommendation that Liano be exempted from military duty. Secretary Cass has sent to Mr. Helm, for the information of the Captain-General, a copy of the instructions to our Minister to Berlin, Mr. Wright, on the subject of interference with the rights of American naturalized citizens.

The majority of the House Committee on the Post-office are in favor of the Senate bill for a telegraph to the Pacific, but with amendments, reducing the price of messages 25 per cent. The Committee are divided as to the amount of subsidy the Government shall pay.

Mr. Burch has been appointed a member of that Committee in place of Mr. English, excused from service. This supplies a Representative from the Pacific, which was much desired.

It appears by a statement of the Picayune's Vera Cruz correspondent, of March 21, that Capt. Aldham wrote to Miramon protesting very strongly against wanton and inhuman destruction of English property and of non-combatants.

The Constitutional Union Committee to-night decided that the Chairman should convene the entire National Committee of Three Hundred simultaneously with the Convention to be held at Baltimore, May 9, to ratify nominations and take steps to further the organization for prosecuting the canvas.

SENATE.

Washington, Monday, April 2.

Mr. Hunter, of Virginia, (Dem.,) from the Finance Committee, reported back the Indian Appropriation bill amendment, and gave notice that he would call it up to-morrow.

On motion of Mr. Benjamin, of Louisiana, (Dem.,) the bill for the final adjustment of private land claims in Florida, Louisiana, Arkansas and Missouri, was taken up.

Mr. Benjamin stated that the object of the bill was to prevent the presentation to Congress one at a time of these private land claims.

The bill was passed.

The bill to authorize the location of certain warrants for bounty lands heretofore issued, on motion of Mr. Hamlin was called up and passed.

The territorial resolutions of Mr. Davis, of Mississippi, (Dem.,) were called up.

Mr. Saulsbury, of Delaware, (Dem.,) said the resolutions were the occasion of his speaking on the state of the Union and discussing its integrity; whether it is imperiled, and if so, who is responsible? and what remedies were there? He regarded the Federal Union as the palladium of our liberty, and would therefore oppose the political parties which threatened it. Some Gibbon would yet write the fall of the Union unless we timely pause and wisely act. It was scarce eighty years ago since the Revolutionary war was fought by those from the North, the South and the then West, who achieved a common liberty for them selves and their posterity. After that came the formation of the Federal Union, and there were conflicts then which were not irrepressible. Our fathers differed widely, but did not assume a moral government over the world. They knew no capital and labor States—now so called by political aspirants,—nor did they discuss the Slavery question; but they placed a clause in the Constitution relative to the escape of fugitives from labor from one State into another, which was a distinct and positive recognition of rights of property in slaves. It recognized the constitutional right of one man to have property in another man against the interference of States. He proceeded to discuss the Slavery questions presented from the earliest times to the present, and cited the first Fugitive Slave law of 1793, as recognizing property in slaves, and said he believed if ever there was a blot and blur on the history of the country, it was the Missouri Compromise. He charged the agitation of the Slavery question on the enemies of the Democratic Party heretofore and now. After condemning the hellish deed of Old Brown, he referred to the political events of the day by an inquiry if the Union was imperilled. He believed that one man more than all others had brought the Union to the very verge of destruction by his teachings and advice. That man was an aspirant to the highest office of the land, was a teacher of the views of the Republican Party, and the same who recently delivered a speech in the Senate. The same man was once Governor of New-York, and refused to return to Virginia three men who escaped, charged with the crime of stealing slaves. If John Brown had carried all the slaves of Virginia to New-York, Mr. Seward would be a fortunate Governor for him in such an event. He quotes Mr. Seward's Cleveland speech, showing that he was in favor of abolishing Slavery in the States and violating the Fugitive Slave Law. He there said "Slavery must be abolished, and you and I must do it." He also quoted from his letter to the colored citizens of Albany, that they had a right to complain of the Union, as it did not give them equal rights with others. When the Republicans assemble around the Council Board at Chicago, and call the roll of States, and there are no answers from the States where rest the remains of Washington, Sumter and Marion, and nominate a candidate to rule over these subjected provinces, who had told the colored people that they had a right to impugn the memories of these Fathers of the Country, perhaps the patient sons of these Fathers will submit to the yoke. The motto of the banner of the Republican Party was lawlessness, and the party was bound to nothing, and its actions were duly determined by exigencies. In conclusion, he said Delaware was the first to adopt the Constitution, and will be the last to abandon it, and advocated the harmony of the Democratic Party as tending to destroy the evils which threatened the Union.

Mr. Ten Eyck, of New-Jersey, (Rep.,) said New-Jersey always had been true to the Union and Constitution, as understood by their framers and the statesmen of that day. The question was not now, Slavery in the States, but its extension into territory now free. None, except a few enemies of the Constitution, pretended that Congress had any right to abolish Slavery in the States in any way, but the question was as to whether in the broad domain, the common property of the Union, it should supplant free labor, enterprise and industry in the marts of commerce, colleges, schools and the golden harvest. The different systems of labor, slave and free, could exist in different sections of the country, but could not in the same field and workshop. The question was the introduction of Slavery into Territory where men are now free as the wild deer bounding over the prairie. He regarded Slavery as an evil. New-Jersey abolished it early, and then hoped others would, but because they did not it was no reason he should come here and villify and traduce members of the latter States. Slavery would have been abolished in many places if there had not been unwarrantable interferences with it. He proceeded to speak of the Fugitive Slave law, and said New-Jersey had had one of her own in force since 1793, and they had regarded it as obligatory on them. They had no doubt of its constitutionality. In one unreported case, Chief-Justice Hornblower had discharged a slave because of a defect in the evidence, and had expressed an opinion as to the effect of its unconstitutionality, but it had not obtained with them. His people were in favor of executing the Fugitive Slave law, and he cited a case where a Representative of his State (Mr. Stratton) advocated it, and sent three slaves back to bondage in a case before the Court, yet he was sent to Congress by a very large Republican vote. He contended that the principles of the Republican party were identical with those of Jefferson and the ordinance of 1787, and said that New-Jersey would stand with the Middle States in repelling ultraism and extravagance, and beg the other sister States, by the memories of Monmouth, Trenton, Saratoga, Bunker Hill, New-Orleans and Guilford, to maintain the Union.

Mr. Brown, of Mississippi, (Dem.,) said it was well known that he contended that a territorial legislature could abolish Slavery by non-action, and that he favored Congressional protection of property in the Territories. For this the charges had been brought against him that he had departed from the usages of the party, and was interpolating new rules. He proposed briefly to deny these charges, for he had not attempted to interpolate in party usages anything not advocated by our fathers. He would show that in 1822, Congress, by an express law, overthrew and set aside certain laws of Florida Territory, and went further than that, by refunding certain monies paid under the repealed law, and substituted an independent law in its stead. It was thus asserted that Congress had the right to protect property in the Territories. He cited the case of a law passed in 1834, where Congress by direct law protected Slavery in Florida, which was voted for by Webster, Clay, Forsyth and Grundy, and many other illustrious men of that Congress, and passed through both Houses of Congress without a dissenting voice, and was approved by President Jackson. Yet he (Brown) was denominated a heretic for advocating now what those illustrious men approved. He stood where they stood; he advocated their acts, and asked nothing new. Oh, Senators! he exclaimed, how have we fallen! He asked for no new theory, yet he had been condemned by Republicans and some Democrats for it. What depth of infamy was the South sinking to to allow these things to go on? He then referred to Mr. Atherton's resolutions of the Thirty-fifth Congress, declaring that Congress had no right to make a distinction in the property of States going into the Territories, and, concluding, contended that this question of protection was never denied until the doctrine of "squatter sovereignty" came into Congress. He would maintain his position and allow no petty neighborhood politician to whistle him down.

Mr. Wigfall, of Texas, (Dem.,) spoke at some length, saying, in the course of his remarks, that the people of a Territory could not admit or reject Slavery. The South asked that slave property might be placed on a footing with all other property. The first property man ever had was in men. He was opposed to starting new questions at this time, and would therefore vote for Mr. Davis' instead of Mr. Brown's resolution, although he regretted that any had been introduced. It was better to let the Charleston Convention nominate its candidate without a platform, fight the battle, starve out the Republicans, and discuss these things afterwards.

Adjourned.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

Washington, Monday, April 2.

Mr. Hickman, of Pennsylvania, (Rep.,) from the Committee on Judiciary, reported a bill to extend the right of appeal from decisions of Circuit Courts to the Supreme Court of the United States.

Mr. Eliot, of Massachusetts, (Rep.,) introduced a bill for the removal of the obstructions at Hurlgate, and a bill for the improvement of Harlem River, which were referred to the Committee on Commerce.

Mr. Morse, of Maine, (Rep.,) ineffectually endeavored to introduce a bill prohibiting the Chinese Coolie trade in American vessels.

Mr. Burnett, of Kentucky, (Dem.,) objected.

The bill for the suppression of polygamy in Utah was considered.

Mr. Millson, of Virginia, (Dem.,) said this bill should pass with as much unanimity as possible, for the crime of polygamy was not only extensively practiced, but attempted to be legalized by statute. He argued, in reply to Mr. Taylor, of Louisiana, (Dem.,) that Congress has power over this low and degrading imposture, and that the very first year after the adoption of the Federal Constitution, a law was passed for the punishment of certain crimes wherever the jurisdiction of the United States extended.

Mr. McClernand, of Illinois, (Dem.,) interrupting, said there was no instance in which Congress attempted to operate directly for the punishment of the crime in organized Territories.

Mr. Millson took issue, referring to the legislative history in support of the argument.

Mr. Taylor also controverted his position, but

Mr. Millson adverted to the gentleman's own State, Louisiana, to show when it was in a Territorial condition the penal laws were extended thither for the punishment of murder, arson, forgery, and every other crime.

Mr. Pryor, of Virginia, (Dem.,) argued that the question of constitutional power is sustained by the uniform policy of the Government. Congress may supervise and annul the organic law of any incipient State. The Republican Party may associate polygamy and Slavery as the twin relics of barbarism, but he disputed the philosophy of the classification. He denied that they stand on the same ground and would fall together when driven from the shelter of a common security. In the interest of Slavery he repudiated the suggestion that the power which Congress possesses over the Territories for the punishment of crime and the suppression of polygamy may be perverted for the destruction of the rights and interests of persons holding slaves. The Territories are the common property of the people of the United States, and the power Congress possesses over them cannot be perverted for the benefit of any section repulsive to the justice and subversive of the equality of the States.

Mr. Hooper, of Utah, (Dem.,) said polygamy was a part of the Mormon religious faith.

Mr. Pryor replied, he had examined the disgusting and blasphemous farrago called the Mormon Bible, and he could not find therein a solitary word recognizing polygamy as a matter of religion. He did not, however, pretend to be acquainted with all the polemics of the Salt Lake Saints. The results of polygamy were seen in the bitter fruits of sedition and crime. This scandalous crime should be extirpated. It was offensive in the eyes of nations, and a reproach to civil liberty.

Mr. Etheridge, of Tennessee, (Amer.,) said two colored persons were conversing about the millenium, when the lion and the lamb shall lie down together. One contented himself by remarking that the time had not yet come, while the other said, when it did come, the lamb would be found inside the lion. [Laughter.] We have here, however, the lion and the lamb lying down together, and it remains for the historian to find out which is the lamb, and which is the lion. The Democrats and Republicans harmonize on the vexed question of the power of Congress over the Territories. That his morality might not be questioned, he said he would vote for this bill or any other, and this disposition should be attributed to to his early teaching of piety. [Laughter.] He repeated that this question brings up the whole power of Congress to govern the Territories, by which the Democrats will be required to stand when the question of Slavery is involved. The Democratic catechism has been often revised, and so rapidly that people were not able to keep up with the changes, and now he was required to say that Congress has plenary power all on one side, provided it is in favor of the negro. This was not as yet published as the last authoritative exposition of the Democratic creed, but it would have endorsers more respectable than the Helper book. Incest, adultery and polygamy are kindred offences. If punishment may be extended to married persons they may to single ones. If the law may be applied to whites, it may be applied to blacks. The Constitution recognizes Slavery no more than it does husband and wife.

Mr. Lamar, of Mississippi, (Dem.,) inquired whether the gentleman maintained and asserted the power of Congress to punish Slavery as a crime in the Territories.

Mr. Etheridge replied—He was showing the difficulties gentlemen may have, for fear they will not see them. Whoever votes for the bill does so with a distinct understanding that Congress has power to punish adultery, and may extend the power to the interdiction of Slavery by unfriendly legislation. But he would vote for the bill because he believed Congress would always have too much good sense to do it. [Laughter.]

Mr. Singleton, of Mississippi, (Dem.,) asked whether the gentleman, in voting for this bill, voted for the principle that Congress has the right to abolish Slavery in the Territories?

Mr. Etheridge repeated that he would vote for the bill in order to scour this nauseating offence, and because he thought Congress could prohibit it in Utah. It extends its provisions as well to blacks as to the whites. As to the operation on Slavery, the only guarantee he had was the good sense, liberality and fair dealing of Congress.

Mr. Pryor remarked that the gentleman from Tennessee said he regarded every one voting for this bill as voting for the right of Congress to abolish Slavery in the Territories. That might be and was true as to the gentleman, but he (Pryor) repudiated that view of the question. He observed a distinction between Slavery and polygamy under the Constitution.

Mr. Etheridge—I know you do. You have said so. I was only speaking for myself.

Mr. Lamar—My question is whether Congress has power to declare and punish Slavery as a felony in the Territories.

Mr. Etheridge—I admit the power of Congress to legislate over black as well as white persons, and while this bill does not embrace black persons, Congress may do so. The gentleman from North Carolina, by offering an amendment, sought to dodge the question.

Mr. Branch, of North Carolina, (Dem.,) assured the gentleman he did not want to dodge. Polygamy might continue to exist before he would vote for the first section of the bill.

Mr. Etheridge replied that the gentleman was not willing to face the responsibility by voting against the bill, but at the same time, afforded by his amendment a narrow plank by which his friends might escape from the burning wreck.

Mr. Taylor opposed the bill. It would be a dead letter on the statute book. He advocated Mr. Branch's amendment, which would apply a remedy for the evil which all seem desirous should be extirpated. He argued that the Constitution is one of limited powers, and gave no authority to pass a measure like that under consideration.

A motion having been made to adjourn, Mr. Sherman, of Ohio, (Rep.,) said they should remain and continue the debate.

Mr. Lamar was prepared to meet the question in a spirit of patriotism and not of party. The bill in effect declared that an entire community is guilty of felony. Owing to the great importance of the subject, it should receive a calm and not a hurried consideration.

Mr. Nelson, of Tennessee, (Amer.,) agreed that the bill was of great magnitude and should be carefully considered. After a liberal amount of discussion he would move the previous question, say late tomorrow afternoon.

The House refused to adjourn.

Mr. Taylor resumed and concluded his remarks.

The House then adjourned.

TURMOIL IN KENTUCKY.

Alleged Outbreak of Civil War—Letter from Cassius M. Clay—Doubts Thrown Over the Whole Story.

The neighborhood of Louisville, Ky., has been greatly disturbed by reports of serious outbreaks in Madison County, directed against the opponents of Slavery in that vicinity. The Louisville Courier of the 29th publishes the following note, brought by a "messenger in hot haste," who reported that as a committee of citizens attempted to drive away one Hanson, a member of the Fee Party expelled some weeks since, they were fired upon by a party of twenty five men armed with rifles, and headed by a man named Haley, who retired and fortified them in an old log-house. The Committee then dispatched the following letter:

Richmond, March 30, 1860.

Capt. John Morgan, Messrs. Allen & Goodloe, Bruce & Hunter:

Gents: We send the bearer of this note requesting you to send us a cannon. We are in a serious difficulty with the Fee party in our county, and we need a cannon to whip them out. Your attention to this will much oblige a great many good citizens of this county—citizens who will remember the kindness. Send us cannon ball and cartridges, and everything necessary to load it. All expenses and damages, if any, will be promptly paid. Your friends,

ED. W. TURNER,
R. R. STONE,
MAJ. WM. HARRIS,
DR. WM. JENNINGS,
And others.

P. S.—If you can, send us some two or three of your boys who know how to load and shoot, and are competent to direct the piece, &c. E. W. T.

We have no one who has ever been accustomed to loading or shooting a cannon, and would like for some one to come who is competent. E. W. T.

The Courier adds that the cannon was forwarded and that the Lexington Rifles were ready to march but concluded to await further intelligence.

In addition, the Evening Post, of yesterday, publishes the following "private letter" from C. M. Clay, dated March 29. Whether it was addressed to some one in this City, or elsewhere, is not stated:

"Yours of the 19th is received. I have only time to say that we are in a state of war. The oligarchy were aiming at me, in the expulsion of the Bereans from their homes, being in hopes that I would forcibly defend them, 'the Radicals.' Defeated by my Frankfort speech, rallying all the Conservative men to my standard, they cnurlishly gave in, yet fanning the discontent by garbling my speeches North, and circulating false rumors. Hanson's return to his saw-mill at Berea (where be employed many Republicans) gave new fuel to the old fire. I went there on Saturday, and tried to induce him to leave, telling him he would bring on a fight, and advising the Republicans to keep apart from the movement. The mob at once cried out that I was then plotting an attack. On Monday they met at Berea, insulted the people by searching the houses, and not finding Hanson, they provoked a conflict; several were wounded, and the lynchers were defeated. On Tuesday they returned in force; but finding no one, they broke up the saw-mill and swore vengeance against me and the whole party. In the meantime, (on Tuesday,) I spoke at Richmond, stating that I was and had been for peace; that I stood upon the ground of my Frankfort speech, and should defend myself and friends. The mob increases in violence; I lie upon my arms awaiting an attack; my family absolutely refuse to retire, saying they will run bullets, and aid as in 1776. If driven into the woods, I shall attempt to hold my position as long as possible; standing on the Constitution, the laws and my right, I will defend them or die. The cannon at Lexington is sent for, and the Governor aids.

Is this my cause only, or that of the American people? Is it to be vindicated in this way, and now? Shall I stand or fall alone? 'May God defend the right!' Your friend, C. M. CLAY.

P. S.—My daughters are as firm as I and Mrs. C.
C."

On the other hand, we have the following letter from our own correspondent at Louisville, dated the 29th, which denounces the whole story as a hoax:

THE IRREPRESSIBLE WAR—MADISON AND HOPKINS COUNTIES IN ARMS AGAINST THE "ABOLITIONISTS" AND "HELPERITES"—BUT ALL A HOAX.

Correspondence of the New-York Times.

Louisville, Ky., Thursday, March 29, 1860.

Some of the raciest jokes of the season occur in these parts. The Democrats of Lexington, Frankfort and Louisville, with Gov. Magoffin, seem for a day or two past to have been roused to the highest pitch by great stories from the interior, warlike telegrams, wrought up with all possible pomp and circumstance. But they have already subsided, and are to day lying on their arms waiting for another "scare."

Yesterday we heard that two dozen or more of the expelled Abolitionists of Berea, headed by Jno. G. Hanson, had returned, and being ordered again to leave by the Madison County Vigilance Committee had shown fight, fired upon the Committee, killed two and wounded others, and then retreated to a block-house bristling with 200 guns, hoisted a flag, and swore they would not surrender! The citizens of Richmond, the county-seat of Madison, were marching to the seat of war en masse, armed to the teeth. The cannon, ammunition and militia boys of Lexington were sent for "to whip out the free party in Madison County." The Lexington Rifles, "in full dress," were about to start thither. Gov. Magoffin had telegraphed to Louisville for percussion caps to fit the Miniés in the State Arsenal, and for a United States officer to accompany him and his numberless aids and the Frankfort militia to the Kentucky Solferino!

To-day, however, the whole thing turns out an arrant hoax from beginning to end! The Governor did indeed set out for the awful scene yesterday forenoon, but he got no further than Lexington before he concluded nothing would suffer for want of his august presence at the seat of war; and so he "turned tail," and found himself before his supper time back again at the seat of Government! I wonder any sensible body could have swallowed so bare-faced, self-evident a canard. Everything was so soon reported quiet in Madison—no "excitement" at Berea or Richmond. A small, insignificant, common-place row had occurred—nothing more—no bloodshed—nobody hurt or in danger! Those Madisonians, who, in the name of a "great many good citizens," sent that blood-and thunder dispatch to Lexington for help against the mighty "Fee party," appear to have done so more for devilry than anything else. If not, they showed a marvelous distrust of their own strength, to invoke the chivalry of all Kentuck to their rescue from a petty Abolition handful! Be this as it may, our Democratic organ, this morning, announces that the troubles there have been "vastly exaggerated." "The Powers," to-day, assure us that "order reigns at Warsaw!"

One other joke, if you please. Some "scamp" in Madisonville, Hopkins County, the other day humbugged right well the distinguished editor of the Louisville Courier. The editor published with alacrity and prominence, a cock-and-bull-story addressed him from that quarter by one "E. W. M." But the Madisonville Register pronounces the entire tale a well-varnished hoax. He wrote that the intensest excitement pervaded Hopkins, owing to the presence, conduct, arrest and escape of a "Helferite," one "Sanders, from New-Albany, Indiana," who traversed the country on horseback, with saddle-bags choke full of the "Impending Crisis" and "Irrepressible Conflict," and was conspiring with certain free negroes and slaves to murder at night certain planters, and then to run them off to the Ohio, opposite Evansville, where a "band of Helferites" would meet them and escort them over to free soil! The "Helferite" was seen by Mr. Edward Sloan, reading some paper to his slaves by the roadside, who had left their work to listen to him. As Sloan approached to question the stranger, the stranger rode away. Sloan's "old Sam" told him all Sanders had said. Thereupon Sloan gave the alarm in Madisonville; all the bells in town were rung, and the town put off in pursuit. They at last caught him, and were about to "string him up," when in the confusion and darkness he escaped! In the melee even the editor of the Madisonville Register, (who now turns up, to our Courier's chagrin, alive and kicking,) was mistaken for Sanders, knocked down, and "very badly hurt!" "E. W. M." immediately sat down and wrote to the Courier a "catch-thief" letter, an epistolary advertisement, minutely describing the terrible fellow's appearance, age, &c., depicting the rage of the people of Hopkins, and indicating their willingness to give any amount for his capture. And yet this was all a bug-a-boo of "E. W. M.'s" invention!—a baited catch for the Louisville Courier! The Courier yesterday owns up, quotes the Register's extinguisher, and pronounces "E. W. M's" epistle of March 15, "the pure fiction of a scamp, whom 't were base to term a villain"—for he had "hoaxed the public," alias Hon. W. N. Haldeman.

The Weekly Averages of the Banks of the City of New-York on Saturday, March 31, 1860, present in the aggregate the following changes from the previous exhibit of March 24:

Increase in Loans	$774,716
Increase in Specie	134,555
Increase in Circulation	119,060
Increase in Undrawn Deposits	1,314,612

Including the Clearing-house operations of the week, which show the inter-exchanges between the Banks; and including, also, the Sub-Treasury statement of Saturday, the following is the general comparison with the previous exhibit, and also with the movement this time last season:

	April 2, 1859.	March 31, 1860.	March 24, 1860.
Capital	$68,048,000	$69,433,000	$69,433,000
Loans	128,702,192	128,388,223	127,613,507
Specie	25,732,161	23,420,759	23,286,204
Circulation	8,221,753	8,444,326	8,335,266
Gross Deposits	110,614,425	106,309,887	107,505,279

Undrawn	87,737,138	83,422,037	82,107,419
In Sub-Treasury	7,816,780	8,026,493	8,122,672

The Bank return shows a general upward movement. The increase in Loans and Discounts, and also in the line of Deposits, is larger than calculated upon. The balances from the interior are now accumulating at New-York, and we look for a further advance in the Deposit line through the Spring months. The market for Money this week opens without alteration in Discount rates. On temporary Loan a fair employment continues on the Stock Exchange, and the rates are 6 Ꝑ cent. as the rule at Bank, and 5@6 Ꝑ cent., according to the class of collateral, with outside lenders. The Exchange market for the Boston steamer is 108¾@⅞ on London, and f.5.18¾@f.5.17½ on Paris, the same as last week, with a fair demand to-day, and no large variety of first class bills offering.

After the excitement and rapid advance in prices at the close of last week, the Stock Exchange opened this morning with less buoyancy of demand, and prices soon manifested comparative weakness on the Share list and on Missouri State Stock, while the Railway Mortgages were nearly all higher, and Eries and Michigan Southerns in demand. The decline in New-York Central and most of the Western Shares to the close of the early Board was ¾@1 Ꝑ cent., and soon after the adjournment at noon, the Street speculation showed increased feverishness, and on telegraphic advice from Albany that the Attorney-General had sent in an opinion sustaining the Tolling power of the State, New-York Central dropped 1 Ꝑ cent. additional, selling, for a short time, as low as 77¼@⅜, as against 79¼@⅜ early in the morning, before the Exchange met. This reaction was partially recovered from at the Second Board, when the sellers on the decline moved with caution, and but little business was accomplished in this Stock. The price closed 77¾@78 Ꝑ cent., and Rock Island Shares 63⅞@¾ ex. dividend of 3 Ꝑ cent., as against 67½ with the dividend on Saturday. The other Western Stocks were 20@20¼ for Michigan Guaranteed; 9⅞@10 for the old stock; 61⅞@62 for Galena; 62¼@¾ for Illinois Central; 24@24¼ for Toledo, and the market steady. Panama sympathized in the general decline of the day about 1 Ꝑ cent., while Pacific Mail advanced 1¼ Ꝑ cent., and sold at 105 Ꝑ cent. Missouri Sixes 81, seller 60 days, in the forenoon; 81⅜@½, cash, in the afternoon. The passage of the Erie Reorganizing bill through the Legislature caused an increased demand for all the Bonds of the Company, and 2@3 Ꝑ cent. rise in the price of the mortgages. The Bonds of the New-York Central, Hudson River, and Harlem, were all firm, and Michigan Central 8 Ꝑ cents. sold at 92½ Ꝑ cent., ex coupon of 4 Ꝑ cent. paid to-day. There was a free demand for Michigan Southern Bonds at 44@45 Ꝑ cent., which is a further rise of 2 Ꝑ cent. In Government Stocks nothing was done, nor in Illinois Construction Bonds, the dividend on which is paid to-day.

The pending Michigan Southern election, which takes places on the 25th inst., at Toledo, begins to excite some feeling on the part of the incumbent administration. Mr. GEORGE BLISS, the President of the Company, put forth a circular over his own name, a week or ten days since, in the course of which he indicated his purpose to voluntarily retire from the administration. As the matter appeared to be more personal to himself than general to the shareholders, and was unaccompanied by anything like a Balance Sheet of the concern, the remarks of Mr. B. seemed to call for little notice or comment from the Press. But some of our contemporaries—the American Railway Journal among others—have taken a different view of this demonstration, and have very pointedly impeached both the motive and good taste of the writer. Since then, Mr. BLISS, under authority of at least a quorum of his Board, has issued a second circular, the contents of which, while affording the Balance Sheet, which the other omitted, directly concern all the stock and bondholders, and that portion of the public disposed to regard the late and present market value of the property as below its intrinsic or productive worth. This circular is as follows:

THE MICHIGAN SOUTHERN AND NORTHERN INDIANA RAILROAD COMPANY,
NEW YORK, March 29, 1860.

TO THE STOCKHOLDERS: The annual meeting for the choice of Directors of your Company will be holden at Toledo the 25th of April next. The Board have just sent to the Press a very full report of their proceedings, and a plain statement of the present condition of the Company. That Report will soon be in your hands. But for your earlier information we annex hereto a condensed abstract of some of its most important facts and statements. You will readily see that a great revolution and reform has been accomplished, and the affairs of the company placed upon a comparatively safe basis. In accomplishing this result, we have been obliged to apply some of the earnings of the road to the payment of a portion of the secured floating debt, in order to protect our securities and indorsers. This has caused a postponement in paying a share of the interest on the funded debt.

Certain outside parties, professing to be dissatisfied with that course, have combined to change the direction by installing themselves and their friends in the control of the road. The two principal operators are Directors and owners in one or the other of the two roads on the south shore of Lake Erie.

As you are aware, our road, from its natural position, has a great advantage in facilities of business in Summer, in the use of Lake Erie, as well as the roads on its south shore. If those roads, as one of them has the last year, establish arbitrary rates, in a measure prohibitory, we have the alternative of the Lake navigation. Hence the interest of the managers of the South Shore roads to control our line, and force the business over their roads, depriving ours of the great advantage, which was one of the leading inducements to its construction. One object avowed is to reorganize the Company, and razee the stock and bonds to a reduced aggregate. How far this plan is matured is not known publicly. But the operators for a change unreservedly express the opinion that the whole stock and debt must be reduced to twelve millions, thus wiping out seven millions of the property of the stockholders and bondholders.

The Directors do not believe there is any necessity for this operation. The outside assets of the Company are amply sufficient, if they can be controlled and properly managed, to pay off the whole floating debt proper of the Company. The traffic of the road is improving, showing an increase in each of the last five months—in the aggregate, $100,819 04—over the corresponding months of the last year, and the current month shows a much larger increase.

With all the embarrassments of the last year the road has paid expenses and interest on the funded debt within $40,063 62
And adding the appropriation for this year to the sinking fund 32,935 00
It makes a total deficiency of $72,998 62

—which is less than two weeks of our present earnings.

The road and machinery are in the very best order, and the business is done with exemplary economy. The greater part of the outside embarrassments of 1857, such as suits, disagreements with other companies, want of titles, &c., are removed. The future is a promising one, and it only needs conservative management, a perseverance in the course pursued during the last two years, and we have great confidence that ere long the affairs of the Company may be placed on a solid basis, and the business not only pay expenses and interest, but give a moderate dividend on the stock.

The personal attendance of the Stockholders at the meeting is earnestly requested.

If you cannot attend, and desire your stock to be represented, you may return the annexed proxy, in blank, to my address at Toledo, and the Directors, at their meeting in Toledo, April 24, next, will designate the person to vote upon the same. By order of the Board.
GEO. BLISS, President.

We do not believe that this appeal will in any respect change the result of the election on the 25th April. As we understand the case, a radical change of administration is now a foregone conclusion. The points to be considered are, the justice of the very direct charge here made as to the purpose and motive of the new rule, and secondly, the effect of this circular on stockholders who have as yet taken no part in the canvass, and are, perhaps, still at fault as to the real merits of the controversy. We have certainly no feeling on the subject and no particular partialities for either side, but a little plain speaking is due to the three or four gentlemen—Mr. W. F. HAVEMEYER and his associates—who have undertaken to control the future of this large property, and whose motives are assailed by Mr. BLISS and his colleagues. The movement has evidently raised, not razeed, the market value of the property. The gross balance sheet involves eighteen millions, in round numbers, in Share Capital and Funded Debt. A few weeks since this eighteen stood at only five millions in the open market. On Saturday last, before the appearance of this official manifesto, aiming to defeat the movement, the eighteen millions gross stood in a market value of nearly seven instead of five millions six weeks ago. And if, under the new rule, when fully secured, as it will be, this value is raised to twelve millions, it strikes us that the bond and shareholders are seven millions richer than in February, instead of having seven millions "wiped out" by the change. In this practical view of the matter, the term razee would seem to be out of place in the circular.

But to-day we have a reaction from the market value of the property on Saturday. The appreciation up to that time is damaged, not by this circular alone, but by the current insinuation, which it now makes official, that the control is sought by Mr. HAVEMEYER and his associates, not for what the property could be made to pay, but for its subsidiary use to the Southern Shore Railway lines around Lake Erie—the use of the lake itself to be wholly excluded—which insinuation or charge we feel authorized to say is wholly unwarranted. No such side interest or subsidiary object is in the contemplation of these gentlemen. Their interest is directly and unequivocally in the property of the Michigan Southern Company, and their confidence in it has been shown, not by soliciting proxies so much as by purchasing heavily and freely into every class of stock and bonds, believing that five millions were too low for it in February, and that twelve millions will not be too dear, after putting new life and imparting new credit to the management.

We extremely regret to notice the death of Mr. ISAAC TOWNSEND, one of our most respected though retired merchants, who was Vice-President of the Bank of the State of New-York at the time of his decease. Mr. TOWNSEND has been in weak health for several months, but his friends were scarcely prepared for the fatal turn in his case at the close of last week.

The annual election for Directors of the Panama Company took place this forenoon, when Messrs. Wm. H. Aspinwall, Edwin Bartlett, Henry Chauncey, Samuel W. Comstock, Edward Cunard, Wm. Fellowes, David Hoadley, Gouverneur Kemble, Theodore W. Riley, James T. Soutter, John Steward, Wm. Whitewright, Jr., and Joseph W. Alsop were elected. The last-named in place of ISAAC TOWNSEND, deceased.

It is stated that Messrs. EDWARD B. LITTLE & Co., Stock Brokers, who suspended payment on the 17th ult., will offer, in settlement, to pay their liabilities in full, with interest, in equal instalments of one, two and three years from that date.

The National Bank has declared a half-yearly dividend of 3½ Ꝑ cent., and the North River Insurance Company a half-yearly dividend of 5 Ꝑ cent.

At the last annual meeting of the Stockholders of the New-York and New-Haven Railroad Company, on the 12th of May, 1859, the following resolution was adopted. On motion,

"Resolved, That the thanks of the meeting be tendered to N. A. BACON, Esq., a former Director of the Road, [the same who recently exposed the unfairness of the separation of Stock,] for the valuable services rendered the Company for many years past."

The Sub-Treasury received to-day $88,000 for Customs, $78,000 from other sources; paid out $245,000, and held at the close a balance of $7,947,515.

The Commercial of this afternoon reports the following proceedings among the creditors of the City of Milwaukee:

"A meeting of the bondholders of the City of Milwaukee was held at the Brevoort House on Saturday, about $600,000 of the bonds being represented by about forty bondholders. WATTS SHERMAN, Esq., was called to the chair, and Mr. E. CATLUS, Secretary. Mr. S. DRAPER explained fully the position of the parties in interest, and a Committee of seven was appointed to prepare a proposition to be submitted at the next meeting. This Committee consists of the following gentlemen: Charles Moran, Watts Sherman, Abijah Mann, Jr., Simeon Draper, A. Von Hoffman, A. Rusch, and J. A. Stevens. The following resolution was adopted:

Resolved, That this meeting earnestly urge the bondholders to send their names, residences and the number of bonds held or represented by them severally to Messrs. DUNCAN, SHERMAN & Co., of this City, on or before the 15th of April.

A meeting of the bondholders will be called as early as is practicable, and it is hoped that the credit of this young and beautiful city of the West will be brought back to the high standing which its commercial importance demands."

The following is the veto of the Governor of Missouri on the Railway grant:

Gentlemen of the House of Representatives:

I am compelled by a sense of duty which I owe both to myself as a man, and as the Executive of the State, (feeling a greater responsibility than you possibly can,) having been unofficially informed that there is now present a quorum capacitated to do business as required by section 17 of the Constitution of the State of Missouri under head of the Legislative power, in accordance with section 10 of the Constitution, under head of Executive power, I herewith return to you without my signature a bill entitled An act making a final grant of State aid to certain Main Trunk Roads, and for other purposes. Having taken the responsibility of calling an Extra Session of the General Assembly to complete the main Trunk Roads now in process of construction, and upon a careful examination of the said bill, finding that instead of securing the completion of any of said roads, in my opinion it finally prevents their completion, as will be seen by an examination of section 17 of the bill, which leaves the State without any control in the premises, and leaves the whole power in the Railroad Company without any power on the part of the State. Also, section 19 of the bill which releases the lien which the State has for her own protection under all former laws preserved. There are minor objections which the General Assembly can rectify.

Yours, respectfully,
R. M. STEWART.

NEWS OF THE DAY.

The advanced skirmishing parties of the two armies who are to meet in deadly fray over the Presidential issue, next autumn, had a keen encounter yesterday, in Connecticut. Rarely have such effort and preparation been brought, as in this instance, to a State canvass, where none but State officers were in question; and the intense excitement of the electors at the polls, and in drawing out a full vote, proved that the effects of imported oratory and capital were large and extremely satisfactory. We are still without means of judging the event decisively. Our latest despatches, however, seem to indicate that while in the towns heard from, constituting more than one half the State, Mr. Seymour, the Democratic candidate for Governor, had made very heavy gains, they still fell a great way short of overcoming the Republican majority of last Spring; and unhappily, they embrace returns from the strongest Democratic localities. It may not, therefore, be hazardous to anticipate the reëlection of Mr. Buckingham, (Rep.,) by a majority seriously reduced, not varying perhaps materially from 1,000. According to the Republican figuring, the vote for the Legislature, thus far, promises a decided Republican majority in both branches. This presentation of the matter may, however, be entirely reversed by returns in a later edition.

The Territorial resolutions of Mr. Davis, of Mississippi, constituted the text of yesterday's debate in the Senate. Mr. Saulsbury, of Delaware, in a speech of much acrimony, attacked Mr. Seward, as the probable candidate of the Republicans in the Presidential contest; arguing that while that gentleman expressed conservative views at Washington, his record embraced evidence of unreserved sympathy with the Abolitionists. The allegation was sustained by the Senator from Delaware by reference to Mr. Seward's speech at Cleveland, where he declared the Abolition of Slavery to be the business of Northern Free-Soilers; by the fact of his refusal, when Governor of New-York, to surrender certain fugitive slaves; and by allusion to the famous letter to colored citizens of Albany. While justifying the South in its vehement opposition to the elevation of such a man to the Presidential office, Mr. Saulsbury concluded by eulogizing the fidelity of his State to the Union, and pledging its unalterable loyalty. Mr. Ten Eyck, of New-Jersey, defended the Republican Party, and, so far as New-Jersey was concerned, declared the faithful execution of the Fugitive Slave act to be a cardinal principle, not only of the party, but of State policy. Mr. Brown, of Mississippi, advocated his own resolutions, requiring Congressional intervention for the protection of slave property in the territory, as preferable to the doctrine of Mr. Davis. The latter was sustained by Mr. Wigfall, of Texas, in a characteristic speech. Polygamy in Utah occupied the House of Representatives. Mr. Millson, of Virginia, spoke urgently in favor of the passage of the prohibitory bill, on moral grounds. Mr. Pryor maintained the same views, taking pains to show the distinction between Slavery and Polygamy, as subjects of such legislation, and arguing the right of Congress to legislate for the Territories. The opposite opinions were advocated by Mr. Taylor, of Louisiana, who saw nothing but a useless and mischievous precedent in the bill. In the course of the debate, Messrs. Etheridge and Nelson, of Tennessee, expressed their design to vote for the measure; but deprecated precipitate action in a matter so momentous. Without definite result, the House adjourned.

Dispatches received at Washington from the commander of the detachment of the army now stationed on the Rio Grande, represent the bulk of news forwarded thence to be entirely fictitious, and devised to further the private objects of the inventors. The bogus accounts are, it is said, always prepared at the latest moment prior to the departure of the mail steamer.

The overland mail which left San Francisco March 11, brings telegraphic advices from that city to the 13th. The mining intelligence is of a still more glowing and exciting character. The wealth of Washoe had not only been attested by responsible investigators, who had visited the fabulous region, but a large quantity of the ore itself had been smelted, and had yielded at the rate of $3,000 a ton. The mines of quicksilver at Napa Valley were also promising returns exceeding the most imaginative calculations. From Jackson County, Oregon, stories are brought of the astonishing richness of the quartz rock in that quarter, whither throngs of adventurers were hastening. The neighborhood of Yreka, California, was also exciting attention by the value of recent gold discoveries. The general news is without interest. An important portion of the town of Shasta had been destroyed by fire.

Intelligence from Havana to the 30th inst. is received by way of New-Orleans. The excitement regarding the capture of the Marin expedition is unabated. The markets were unchanged. It was reported in New Orleans that an agent of Miramon was in that city purchasing ammunition.

The delegates to the Kansas Republican State Convention which assembles at Lawrence on April 11, are elected for the most part, and in several instances have been instructed to vote for delegates who will favor the nomination of Mr. Seward. Judge Collamer, our correspondent thinks, will be the second choice of the Convention. At the meeting of the Douglas County Republican Convention, resolutions were adopted indorsing Gen. Lane as a candidate for the United States Senatorship, and repudiating Gov. Robinson.

The new trial in the famous case of Carstang against Shaw, at St. Louis, has resulted in a verdict in favor of the defendant. The decision, reversing the previous verdict, is presumed to have been effected by the evidence recently accumulated, touching the previous character of the fair plaintiff.

In the State Senate a number of important bills were advanced a stage, and a few of them passed. The main business of the day was the Metropolitan Police bill, which was discussed at considerable length, chiefly by City Senators. A motion to strike out the enacting clause was lost, by a vote of 10 to 17. It was made the special order for this evening. To the Assembly several bills were reported favorably. The opinion of the Attorney-General, maintaining the unconstitutionality of the act of 1851, abolishing railroad tolls, was received, read, and ordered to be printed. The bill providing for the better protection of game was passed, as were also the bills relative to the weight of hay, to incorporate the Atlantic Savings Bank, and the Long Island Railroad Company. It was determined to hold three sessions daily hereafter.

The Supervisors yesterday declined to authorize the payment of a bill presented by one of the journals in which the papers awaiting the approval of the Mayor have been advertised, on the ground that the tax-levy makes no provision for this expense. A communication was received from the District-Attorney remonstrating against those provisions of the new Police law now before the Legislature which authorize the appointment of an Attorney and Assistant to the Police. The Board adopted a resolution remonstrating against the bill now before the Legislature. In spite of the veto of the Mayor, the Supervisors adhered to their action in inserting $150,000 in the tax levy for the erection of buildings for the accommodation of the County Courts. So many of the Aldermen were in Albany yesterday looking after the interests of the City, that there could not be a quorum assembled at the hour for meeting. The Councilmen directed the Counsel to the Corporation to prepare a remonstrance against the bill now before the Legislature, which provides for the removal of the City Hall to Madison-square. The appropriate Committee was directed to report whether the street cleaning would not be performed more satisfactorily if the City were divided into a number of small districts. The communication from the Commissioners of the Central Park, asking for an appropriation of $833,000, was referred to the Committee on Finance. A message from the Mayor announced the death of Mr. Isaac Townsend. The Governors of the Almshouse, of which Board Mr. Townsend was a member at the time of his death, held a meeting in the afternoon and passed appropriate resolutions.

The total number of deaths in this City last week was 446. During the corresponding weeks of 1858 and 1859 there were 446 and 426 respectively.

The semi-annual session of the Third Presbyter of New-York (New School) commenced in this City. Walter Clark, D. D., was elected Moderator. Delegates to the General Assembly were put in nomination, and candidates for license to preach were examined. The Session will be continued to-day at the Mercer-street Presbyterian Church.

The Court of Oyer and Terminer commenced its April session before Judge Hogeboom. Nothing was done beyond the impanneling of a Grand Jury and the judicial charge to that body. To-day a murder trial will be taken up. The April Term of the Court of General Sessions commenced before Recorder Barnard, with a calendar of 115 cases, most of them important. A Grand Jury being in session in the Court of Oyer and Terminer, the impanneling of a Grand Jury for the Recorder's Court was postponed for two weeks, it being illegal for two such bodies to be in session at one time in the same county. The jury in the case of James Shepherd, tried a second time (having been twice previously sentenced to be hung) for murder and arson, was unable to agree, and was discharged yesterday by Judge Russell. It had been forty-two hours in deliberation, and stood seven for acquittal and five for conviction. It is the District-Attorney's intention to try Shepherd a third time.

A bloody pocket-handkerchief was yesterday found in the cabin of the sloop Spray, at Jersey City. The prosecution has obtained information that the captain of a vessel, when off Norwalk Island, on Thursday evening, the 15th inst., heard he cry of murder from on board of the sloop Spray, and also the sound of fire-arms. The case will probably be concluded to-day.

The Stock Market, yesterday, was lower and quite feverish through most of the dealings. At the close a steadier feeling obtained the difference in prices, as compared with Saturday, being from ⅞ to 1¼ ℘ cent. Money rates without alteration. Exchange for the Boston steamer the same as by Saturday's mail.

The transactions in Cotton reached only 1,000 bales, at previous quotations. No important changes occurred in the market for Flour, which was sparingly sought after. A somewhat livelier inquiry prevailed for Wheat. Corn was in fair demand. Provisions were moderately dealt in. Groceries, Metals, Hops, Seeds, Naval Stores and Tallow, were inactive. Linseed and Sperm Oils attracted considerable attention. The freight engagements were more extensive.

The President's Organ.

Mr. Buchanan must be presumed to be sincere in the desire which he so pathetically expressed, in his late message to the House of Representatives, to have the President of the United States held in proper respect by Congress as well as the community at large. Of the various ways in which this respect can doubtless be testified, however, he only mentioned one—and that was rigid abstinence from all inquiry into the way in which he and his subordinates have been carrying on the Government. As this manner of displaying reverence for himself and his office happens to be just now singularly distasteful to the public, and will, in all probability, not be resorted to, we are prepared to supply him with a hint as to the best mode of beginning to excite the sympathy in his favor, of which he just now seems to stand so greatly in need, and if he is wise he will avail himself of it. It is the more valuable, though we praise it who shouldn't, from the fact that it suggests nothing for the execution of which he is not himself amply capable. It is neither more nor less than effecting an immediate change in the tone and language of his official organ, the Constitution; or if—as the world would not be at all astonished to hear—this little task should be beyond his powers, putting a final, formal and public end to his connection with it.

Both the code of morals and the code of manners, of which that journal has made itself the exponent during the last six months, are such as reflect discredit not simply on the taste of the unfortunate Mr. Buchanan, but on the civilization of the country. It is disgraceful to us all that a journal which not only expresses the sentiments of the Executive of the United States, but is conducted under its direct superintendence, should have no better way of disposing of its political opponents than by a strain of vulgar abuse, such as is rarely heard out of a fish market, and that its highest flights of oratory should consist simply in the ingenious collection of "hard names" and coarse epithets. No piece of invective has appeared in its columns for a long time which Parson Brownlow might not have written, or which might not have very appropriately graced the pages of Stephen H. Branch's defunct Alligator. We make this criticism without meaning or attempting any defence of those whom it assails. But we will say, for the credit of the country, if for nothing else, that there are very few men in the Congress of the United States who are not worth the expenditure of some wit, of some sense, of some keenness, of some polish, of some sarcasm, of some knowledge, or grace, or elegance, or at all events of decent English, in any assault that it may be necessary to make upon them.

Nor is the Constitution content with compounding billingsgate of its own, and bespattering its enemies therewith,—but it delights in collecting the garbage which others drop, and hurling it with as much gusto as if it were of its own manufacture. When Mr. Davis disgraced himself by calling another member in debate "a liar and a scoundrel," and the House disgraced itself and the country by not promptly expelling him therefor, one would have expected the "old public functionary," who so tenderly watches over our morality, to have thrown his newspaper over the scandal, and if he could wring repentance from the offender, to have concealed the offence from the gaze of an uncharitable world. Not a bit of it. He took Davis under his protection, adopted his blackguardism, denounced the man in whose face it had been flung, because he had not been so lost to patriotism and self-respect as to violate the law which James Buchanan had sworn to respect, and usurp the prerogative of the House of Representatives, by punishing the insult with a pistol or club. In other words, the "organ" heaped vituperation on Mr. Van Wyck for not fighting a duel, and eulogized Mr. Davis for calling low names in debate.

The assault on Mr. Seward a few weeks ago—that on Speaker Pennington also, are not simply "attacks" on political opponents; they are in perfect keeping with the treatment of the Van Wyck and Davis affair. If they emanated from a backwoods politician, or from the New-York Herald, we should decidedly be of opinion that the less notice taken of them the better. But when a newspaper conducted under the direct supervision of the President of the United States calls the Speaker of the House of Representatives a person "with the manners and tricks of a buffoon," "an ignorant imbecile," "the pliant tool of an unscrupulous faction," "a disgrace to the chair of a representative body"—we must all sorrowfully confess that this vulgar vituperation is a matter of public concern. If it be true that such a person as this occupies such a position, in what light does the mere fact present us to the world?—if it be not true, how shall we get rid of the damning shame and disgrace that a man who has passed through every stage of political preferment, who has seen forty years of public life, and whose old age has been honored by the highest office in the Republic, should, sitting in the Presidential chair, at the close of his career, be able to command no decenter language than this in which to denounce the shortcomings of a political opponent? One who uses the Constitution as the exponent of his loves, and hates, and fears, and hopes, and opinions, clearly repudiates all claim upon the personal respect of his enemies; and it is more than audacious for any such person to call upon a public body to draw the veil over his own faults out of reverence for the office he holds. If that office be entitled to any respect, he should himself be the first to pay it. To ask us to look upon it with religious awe, while he edits the Constitution in it, is a signal proof of the forbearance with which the public has always treated him. Nobody could make such a request whose experience of human nature had not been unusually agreeable.

Our City Railroads.

We have been requested to give place to the following notice:

> "The Committee of the Senate on Cities and Villages have, on the application of Mr. Wm. Allen Butler, counsel for the property owners, accorded him a hearing on the subject of City railroads, on Wednesday, at 4 P. M., at which time all persons interested in the question will have the opportunity of appearing before the Committee."

This is well enough so far as it goes. But it does not go very far. The property owners constitute a very small portion of those who are interested in the question of City Railroads. It is desirable that they should have a hearing, and a chance of proving that nobody should travel through the street in front of their premises except in the style and manner which they may approve. They have certain rights, undoubtedly, and they ought to have due consideration paid to them.

But their interests and those of the great mass of our citizens may not be identical. They will seek to convince the Committee on Cities and Villages that no more Railroads should be built. If they succeed, great injustice will be done to the rest of the community, for we do need more Railroads. Those now in existence do not accommodate one-fifth part of the City travel. If they fail, the roads will be chartered, without the slightest regard to the rights and the interests of that great class most directly concerned,—namely, the millions who ride. They are to have no hearing—no chance of remonstrating against the wrongs practiced upon them, or of urging that protection be secured to them in any charters that may be granted. Why will not the Committee listen to somebody on their behalf?

Why should the grantees of these roads be permitted to cram their cars to suffocation,—clog the streets by cumbrous and awkward rails, deny seats to those who have paid full fare, divide thirty or forty per cent. on the capital invested, and yet keep their rates so high as to prevent thousands of the honest, laboring poor from riding at all? Why should not the Legislature take them into the account, and make some effort to consult their interests as well as those of the monopolies to whom they give the charters, and the property-owners who oppose all roads? These two parties do not embrace the whole community,—nor are they all who have an interest in this question. The whole contest thus far has been carried on upon false grounds. The Committees and the Legislature have resolutely refused to consider the claims of that vast mass of our people, who have really much the largest interest in the decision of the question.

More Official Compromising with Swindlers.—At the Mayor's Office, yesterday, occurred another illustration of the lamentable inefficiency of that tribunal for the administration of justice. We referred the other day to the habit of discharging swindlers brought before the Mayor, upon the payment by them of the money they have fraudulently obtained, instead of handing them over to the proper officers for judicial examination. Yesterday the keeper of a sailor's boarding-house was brought up on complaint of three Spanish sailors whose clothing he held as security for money which he had paid a runner for delivering them into his clutches. When reproved for the imposition, he defended it by explaining that it was the usual custom—for the violation of which he would be "expelled from his society"—to pay runners a dollar apiece for every boarder secured, and then to charge the item in the victim's bill, thus making the sailor pay for the privilege of being swindled! The Spaniards were willing to pay for the breakfast they had had, but not the tax on their own capture.

Instead of ordering the swindler to give up at once the property, or even handing him over to the Police, the "authority" before whom the hearing was had held an hour's parley with him, now advising him to give up the property, now threatening him with the Tombs if he didn't,—telling him, with the grandeur of official dignity, which only an appointee of Fernando can wear, that this was "what the law terms a primy fashy fraud; yes, Sir, a regular primy fashy fraud;" and that he was "a superfine accessory in the language of the law." That this array of judicial lore succeeded where other threats and advice had failed, need hardly be stated. It was useless to oppose the majesty of such learned law, and the swindler yielded. What earthly reason can there possibly be for thus letting villains escape, when an officer of the law already has them in his hands?

Against Wind and Tide.

The Philadelphia North American exults in rather an unfraternal spirit over the seven-leagued strides which the City of Brotherly Love is making to overtake and pass New-York. Our contemporary discovers that, while Philadelphia has multiplied her population since 1850 at the rate of 67 per cent., New-York has gained during the same time an increase of only 55 per cent.; and thence infers that, in less than ten years, Philadelphia will "outstrip us," while in "less than thirty years she must double us in numbers." The prospect is solemn, but it does not seriously alarm us, for the experience of London and Paris has proved that the growth, however rapid, of any important suburb, always results in the increased prosperity of the metropolis; and though our contemporary rather cruelly turns Gotham over to the "excessively wild, extravagant and ambitious," and reserves Philadelphia for the decent, orderly, quiet and industrious, we make no doubt that the more people there are in Philadelphia, the more business we shall be doing in New-York. So we trust that holders of property in this "fast and furious" town, where everybody must expect "to die at 26," will not rashly sell out all they have, and reinvest in Philadelphia, for the chance of living "without glaring temptations, to the age of 56." If mere longevity be an object, it would be wiser to take stock in the Bahama Banks, where highly respectable turtles have been known to live for more than a century, and to be in all that time fully as "quiet, orderly and moral in all their habits and movements" as any of the children of Penn.

Our contemporary enumerates half-a-dozen grave reasons for the frightful deterioration of life in New-York, and for its correlative amelioration in Philadelphia. We commend them to the attention of the Sanitary Association; but we must add to them two serious considerations which ought to be borne in mind whenever our shocking inferiority is dwelt upon. New-York, for the last ten years, has been forced to make her way literally "against wind and tide." Such are the grades and such is the condition of our streets, that whenever the windows of heaven are opened our island becomes an angry pool of waters, troubled by Aldermen instead of angels. And such is the ingenuity of our street-cleaning contractors in not removing the deposits of dirt from our highways and byways, that whenever the wind rises we have something worse than a sandstorm of Egypt; a straw-dust-and-guano storm, against which the most experienced of Oriental desert-travelers would fail to make head. Our more fortunate friends who have nothing in the world to do but to keep their marble door-steps and their brick sidewalks nice and bright, ought not to be too hard upon us, in view of these circumstances. We have a great deal to contend with; but a single visit of the cholera, making a clean sweep, as it infallibly would, of the City Government, might suddenly relieve us from the pressure which now retards our progress.

Changed Times and Men.

One of the most honest of English historians confesses that one of the main props of the great "war policy" of Wm. Pitt was the solid body of Government contractors who were interested in furnishing supplies to the national armaments, and who were represented in Parliament by a force of subsidized members, more decorous, perhaps, but not much more scrupulous than the elect of the people who now rule our great Republic with such universal admiration and applause.

The feeble echoes of that famous policy, which have lately made themselves heard at Westminster, fall happily for the world upon the ears of quite another audience. Commerce, in the higher and wider meaning of the term, now wields that power in England which was then monopolized by a narrower and less generous interest, and the attempts of the English Conservatives to make party capital out of the questions of Italy and Savoy, at the risk of plunging Europe into war, are much more ridiculous than redoubtable. This changed aspect of the case appears even in the character of the men who are put forward to take up the parable of the dynasties and of the "balance of power" against the new Bonaparte. Sir Robert Peel, in the Commons, is the unworthy heir of a great name, who has won for himself the nickname of the "Parliamentary low comedian," by his eccentric buffooneries, and who scandalized all England four years ago by showing the white feather in a quarrel which he had provoked by delivering a lecture to his constituents on the Russian coronation, in the course of which he indulged in the most insolent caricatures of all the foreign dignitaries whom he had met at St. Petersburg.

Lord Normanby, in the Peers, is a broken-down diplomatist, who has now been publicly summoned by the Tuscan Minister of War, to place in the hands of the Tuscan Government his grounds for charging that functionary with "embezzling public moneys to the amount of £60,000." Gen. de Cavero, the Minister in question, has honorably served his country for nearly fifty years; and the London Morning Post indignantly, but very justly, says that if "Lord Normanby does not instantly answer this challenge, he will be branded by the public opinion of his own countrymen as guilty of the most groundless and heartless calumny." The cause can hardly be strongly fixed in the sentiment of England which can find no worthier men than such as these to act as its leaders and its organs.

Municipal Advertising.—The Board of Supervisors yesterday again refused to pay Mayor Wood's bills for advertising the ordinances and resolutions awaiting his approval. This is perfectly right and proper. There is no law authorizing any such publication on his part, and he has no more right to expend money in this way than in any other. If he may advertise in one paper he may in a dozen. He has just as much authority to expend a million dollars as he has a hundred. The Board of Supervisors have discharged a public duty in refusing payment.

In point of fact, there would not be the slightest necessity for any such publication, if the advertising of the Proceedings of the Common Council were done with any regard to common sense or the public welfare. If the two Boards would select newspapers which the public reads, as the means of informing the public what they have done, nothing further would be needed. But, instead of this, they publish them in paltry sheets, without circulation or influence,—which nobody ever reads, and whose existence is utterly unknown to ninety-nine in every hundred of the inhabitants of the City. Yet they pay enormous sums for this kind of advertising,—which are absolutely thrown away. Whether members divide the proceeds of this plundering system with the proprietors of these newspapers, or whether they are induced in some other way thus to waste the public money, we cannot say. But they might just as well throw the money into the East River as to expend it in the way they do.

The Common Council ought to select from the City newspapers three or four having the largest circulation, among different classes of the community, and advertise their proceedings in their columns. In this way the public would know from day to day what has been done, and the expense would not be a dollar more than the present utterly useless and inefficient mode. This would obviate the necessity of Mayor Wood's endeavor to enlighten the public concerning the acts of the Common Council.

The Great Breach of Promise Case—A Decided Change of Front.—Our readers probably remember that some months ago a Miss Carstang, of St. Louis, sued Mr. Shaw, a wealthy citizen of the same place, for having broken his promise to make her his wife. The Jury gave her the munificent verdict of $100,000 damages. She was contented but Mr. Shaw was not,—so he moved for another trial, and obtained it. It has just been brought to a close, and Miss Carstang gets—just nothing at all. It will be her turn now to apply for a new trial, though the experience of this last one will probably not inspire her with any very ardent desire for its repetition.

Miss Carstang it seems kept a boarding-house in St. Louis, and after casually making Mr. Shaw's acquaintance, cultivated it by borrowing money of him, on several occasions. He became quite a frequent visitor at her house, and, she asserts, promised to marry her. Of this promise her sister was the principal witness. Upon this second trial her whole life has been subjected to a merciless scrutiny,—the result of which was a conviction on the part of the Jury that her record was not sufficiently spotless to entitle her to damages. She leaves the Court, therefore, not only without any pecuniary solace to her wounded affections, but with the reflection that her whole life has been scrutinized and sifted and analyzed,—every innocent flirtation, every gracious smile bestowed upon a former admirer, every act of thoughtlessness and imprudence weighed in the nicest balance of legal criticism; that she herself has been subjected to the mortification of sitting day after day and hearing the unfavorable comments of the opposing counsel upon her character, and to all sorts of insinuations and inuendoes, if not the direct charges, that she was a female adventuress, that she had ensnared the defendant in her toils with the purpose of despoiling him of his wealth, and that a painful notoriety will henceforth attach to her name.

The experience of the law which Miss Carstang has had will not be without its moral, and it will afford no encouragement to others of her sex, whose affections may have been trifled with, to carry their griefs into Court, unless they feel confident that there is no act of their past life upon which an injurious construction can be put, and that they have been patterns of propriety and miracles of prudence,—and unless also they can divest themselves of all sensitiveness of feeling, and are willing to sacrifice the delicacy of the sex for a doubtful pecuniary compensation of an injury which loses all its hold upon our sympathies when offset by dollars and cents.

It was quite time that such a lesson was given, for these breach of promise suits have become disgustingly common throughout the country. Half a dozen heavy verdicts seem to have stimulated scores of women, more or less young, in various quarters to similar prosecutions. It was becoming absolutely dangerous for a man of wealth to be civil to an unmarried lady. We trust they will now breathe somewhat more freely.

Mythological Politics.—There is an old French proverb which avers that "in the kingdom of the blind the one-eyed is king;" and we presume that Mayor Wood has relied upon what Mr. Emerson would call the "great truth" embalmed in this saying to acquire for himself the Supreme control of the New-York Democracy. But it now appears that the immaculate Fernando is not the only one of his party who can boast of a "single eye." The Mayor's pocket-organ in this City yesterday devoted one of its most solemn and tremendous strains to expose the machinations of some mysterious colossus, whom it describes as the "Tammany Cyclops," and who is exerting himself, in company with "the Antæus of the State Capital," to oust the Mayor from his natural control of the coming Charleston Convention. This monster, it seems, has "adopted a system of dynamics," one object of which is to "disseminate Republican poison in the Democratic ranks of Connecticut;" while still another is to seduce "the Washington of the President," and so bring about a state of things in which "consistency and honor will fare but ill." What the result of this profoundly inscrutable battle of the one-eyed shall be, time alone can determine. We can only call the attention of all the world and the rest of mankind to the struggle, unmatched since the days of the Odyssey. At the present moment the "Tammany Cyclops" seems to be winning, on one point, at least, as we infer from the following lament of the Mayor's organ:

> "On last Friday we had a leading article defending the President from the assaults of his friends and foes in Congress. We made common cause with him. We denounced, and do denounce, the unrighteous course against which it was his duty to make the moderate and dignified protest he did. That very morning, by a strange coincidence, the Washington organ of the President, under the influence of the active and unscrupulous agents we have alluded to, had a most unmanly, but not an uncharacteristic attack upon the Democratic delegation to Charleston, chosen by the people of New-York."

This is rather hard, and it would be difficult to understand how the President could be so ungrateful, were not an explanation afforded us by the victim itself in these Orphic and overwhelming words:

> "When the ass of Hector lost his ears, he brayed—when he received his fodder, he brayed—when he was shot to the heart, he brayed. It was his nature."

Two young ladies from New-York took the white veil at St. Ann's Church, Manchester, N. H., last week. The American says: "The young ladies are well educated and highly accomplished. The ceremony was originally intended for the private chapel of the convent, but the large number of the Catholic laity who were anxious to witness the interesting occasion induced the Lady Superior to gratify their request."

FROM ALBANY.

The Metropolitan Police Bill in the Senate.

The Opinion of the Attorney-General on Railroad Tolls.

Albany, Monday, April 2.

The Attorney-General's communication further argues against the constitutionality of the bill repealing the tolls on railroads, on the ground that it diverts the public revenues for the benefit of private corporations.

The Democracy of the city have put the following candidates in nomination: For Mayor, George H. Thatcher; for Recorder, Charles Austin; Police Justice, John O. Cole; Justice of Justices' Court John J. Gallup; for Assessor, James Boyle.

SENATE.

Albany, Monday, April 2.

The bill to amend the Atlantic Dock Company's charter was passed; also the bill to amend the act authorizing the formation of corporations for manufacturing, mining and mechanical purposes.

The bill to prevent frauds at auction sales was ordered to a third reading.

The bill to establish the grade of the Flatbush-avenue, Brooklyn, was ordered to a third reading.

The following bills were passed:

To confirm the acts of the New-York Council, relative to improving Fourth-avenue.

Mr. Connolly introduced a bill to incorporate the Rose Juvenile Asylum Association of New-York.

The bill to amend the Charter of the Homestead Fire Insurance Company was reported favorably.

The Metropolitan Police bill, reorganizing the Commission and giving the appointment of the new Board to the Governor, was taken up for final reading.

J. M. Murphy spoke at some length in opposition, excepting particularly to the clause which provides that any policeman may enter a house or other building without a warrant, when he has probable cause to suppose that stolen property is concealed there, or some crime has been or is being committed there.

Mr. Spinola spoke at length against the attempt to make a political machine of the police force. During his remarks he eulogized the action of Simeon Draper, who, while a Commissioner, endeavored honestly to conduct the law, and when he found himself overruled, resigned.

Messrs. Hammond and Grant argued against the constitutionality of the clause. Objected to by Mr. Murphy.

Messrs. Goss and Robertson argued in favor of the clause.

The latter said the Republicans are responsible for the law, and should not leave the force in the hands of Democrats. He claimed if the bill passed that the Republican vote in the City will be increased 20,000.

A motion to strike out the enacting clause was lost, 10 to 17; Messrs. Mannierre and Hillhouse, Republicans, voting in the affirmative.

The bill was then recommitted to the Committee of the Whole, and made the special order for to-morrow evening. Adjourned.

ASSEMBLY.

Albany, Monday, April 2.

A large number of remonstrances from different parts of the country were presented against the Insolvent bill.

The Insolvent bill came down from the Senate.

Mr. Milliken moved to refer it back to be reported complete. Lost.

The Attorney-General sent in a communication in reply to the inquiries of the Assembly as to his opinion on the constitutionality of the repeal of the Railroad tolls of 1857. The present Attorney-General differs from his predecessors, to whom similar inquiries have been addressed, as well as from the Legislature of 1857 and its presiding officers, and argues that the repeal of the bill requires a two-thirds vote.

Mr. Callicot moved to take from the table the petition of the citizens of Brooklyn, asking for the impeachment of Judge Culver, upon sworn charges of malfeasance in office made against him.

Mr. Miller opposed the motion, and it was lost.

Mr. Callicot raised a point of order, that the petition must be regularly presented and read, and could not be laid on the table until it was read.

The Speaker ruled that the point was not well taken, inasmuch as the time to raise the point was when the petition was before the House.

Several bills of no general interest were passed—among them one to loan money to the Antwerp Literary Institute, and in reference to the University of New-York.

One to amend the act authorizing the formation of Agricultural and Horticultural Societies.

To release the first lien of State mortgage on the property of the State Agricultural Society.

Recess till 7 P. M.

The following bills were passed:

In relation to bale hay and hay scales.

To authorize the City of Rochester to raise $10,000 by tax for Schools.

To amend the charter of the Washington Insurance Company of New-York.

To incorporate the Brooklyn Medical and Surgical Institute.

To incorporate the Atlantic Savings Bank of New-York.

To incorporate the Down-Town Club of the City of New-York.

To incorporate the Long Island Railroad Company.

Adjourned.

NOTES FROM THE CAPITAL.

DULL DAYS IN BOTH HOUSES—INTEREST ON CANAL DRAFTS—THE TOLL BILL OF '51—OPINION OF THE ATTORNEY-GENERAL—THE CONFERENCE COMMITTEES—NOTHING DONE—THE LOBBY AS DULL AS THE INSIDE, &C., &C.

From Our Own Correspondent.

Albany, Monday, April 2, 1860.

There is hardly a quorum in the Senate this morning—not enough present to go on with the third reading of bills—so that order of business was cast aside, and the general orders taken up. Nothing of moment was considered, except a bill to provide for paying interest on the principal of the Canal drafts issued last December. There is remaining unpaid the interest from July to January last—six months.

Last year a bill making provision in advance for paying this interest was passed by both Houses, but vetoed by the Governor, for some opinion that it was unconstitutional. The drafts were then in the hands of the contractors, and a law to pay the interest would have made them equivalent to any other kind of State indebtedness, and negotiable at par. By the veto, they were tainted as of doubtful character, and the contractors were forced to sell them at a shave of from ten to fifteen per cent. At these prices, almost all the certificates were bought up by bankers and capitalists, and as they were redeemed in December by the State, of course those who bought them realised the full amount of the discount or shave at which they had been bought. Now, those who held them from July to January are applying for the payment of the interest which the Governor last year decided it was unconstitutional to pay, and, strange to say, the most inveterate lobbyists of the bill are the men who last year most patriotically sustained the Governor's veto. The Senate, however, seems as little inclined this year to pay interest as were the Governor and capitalists last year. The bill was "progressed," after a very decided demonstration that a full half of the Senators were against it.

There were so few present in the House this morning, that the third reading of bills had to be laid aside, and the regular routine business taken up. There were a great number of bills reported complete—enough to keep the Clerk reading and the House voting for the balance of the week.

The only thing of importance that transpired was the reading of an opinion from Attorney-General Myers, on the constitutionality of the law of 1851, releasing certain railroads from the payment of tolls.

The Assembly asked this opinion of the Law officer of the State, by a resolution unanimously adopted. His reply is long. The conclusions are: 1. That the law, if its provisions were constitutional, did not receive a constitutional vote. 2. That tolls being a part of the public revenue, and by the organic law pledged to the payment of the principal and interest of the State debt, it was not competent for the Legislature to release the Companies from their payment. In reaching these conclusions, the Attorney-General carefully reviews the history of our internal improvements, and shows that it was not alone the letter but the spirit of the Constitution that forbade the enactment of the law of 1851.

The opinion was read through, and listened to with respectful attention. A large number of extra copies were ordered to be printed. It seemed to have made a marked impression on the Assembly. The opinion was not communicated to the Senate, but there were a number of Senators present to hear it read in the lower House. If the Attorney-General be correct in his conclusions, and he enforces them by a suit, as it is his duty to do, the companies released will have a large score of principal and interest to pay—more probably than the commutation sum fixed in the Sessions bill.

The Conference Committees on the Toll bill have been together twice—once on Saturday and again this morning. Nothing could be agreed on—the Senate Committee adhering to the half cent per mile extra charge on the Central, to which the House Committee could not, of course, listen for a moment. Their report will be a mere matter of form.

It is probable the House will now pass a bill repealing the law of 1851, and send that to the Senate. I doubt whether even that can pass. The Railroads have bought up the Senate, and their agent constantly watches the circle to see that none of the purchased attempt to cheat. No shepherd ever watched his flock more carefully than does the agent look after his agents on the floor of the Senate. He don't allow them out of sight for a moment, nor even to seem to be independent.

The lobby, like the two houses, is but sparsely attended to day. Saturday takes most of them home, and they don't get back in time for the early exercises on Monday. When they come back this time, it is expected that they will make hay fast. The sun will hardly shine more than two weeks longer, and they must work fast, or the grass will get mouldy.

I presume the City Railroad bills will "move along" about Wednesday next. LEO.

THE PRESIDENTIAL QUESTION.

Rhode Island Awake—Political Excitement Intense—Tremendous Gathering of the Conservatives at Providence—Speeches of the Lieutenant-Governor, of Mr. Hamlin, and of Gen Van Zandt.

From our Special Correspondent.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Saturday, March 31, 1860.

The excitement increases; day succeeds day excitement follows excitement; money flows like water; liquor flows like money; party bitterness grows more and more rancorous; partisans abuse and vilify in every conceivable manner the candidates of opposing parties, and the whole community, from Westerley to Providence, and from Woonsocket to Newport, is in a universal hubbub and tumoil. As for the undersigned, he has come to the conclusion that the longest pole will get the persimmons, and that the candidate who spends the most money will be the next Governor of Rhode Island. That's certain, sure. Each party exerts itself to get up meetings, and able speakers on each platform affirm the soundness of their political platform; and having spoken the allotted space, and the requisite amount of buncombe, retire with the Committee amid thunders of applause, take their little fifty or hundred, as the case may be, and thank the Lord that candidates possessed of such lengthy pockets have been induced to seek their services, and compelled to come down with the dust in such liberal style. Bon fires burn at every corner, bar-rooms resound with patriotic treats on every block, and the spirits of hundreds of drunken loafers rise, as they hear and dream of the probable high price of votes on Wednesday next, the 4th day of April, 1860.

This evening, in company with a friend from the New-York Herald, I attended a mass meeting of

CONSERVATIVES AT HOWARD HALL.

Long before the hour of meeting the spacious hall was filled. Not a seat was to be seen anywhere, and the aisles were crowded away up to the platform. The audience was as respectable and numerous as that which assembled the other evening to hear Mr. STANTON; and I must say, that in all my experience I have never seen finer assemblages at political gatherings than I have met during my tour in this State. To be sure, there is not the same curiosity among the people to hear their own townsmen that there is when speakers from abroad present themselves; but a speaker need never go beyond the city of Providence to find an intelligent, appreciative and well-behaved auditory.

After the preliminary ceremonies, and the reading of some strongly conservative resolutions by the Secretary, Mr. W. B. CHAPIN, the President introduced the candidate for Lieutenant-Governor, Mr. J. RUSSELL BULLOCK.

Mr. BULLOCK was not designed by nature for a stump speaker, or a popular orator. His forte consists rather in the fact that he is a substantial looking man, who has certain well matured beliefs, and who can, if occasion requires, express and explain them with ease and dignity. He began by stating that all the Republicans cared for was the extension of the sale of HELPER's book and the spread of its doctrines, and that the recent invasion of the sovereign State of Virginia by that arch traitor JOHN BROWN was but a natural sequence of the doctrines of that radical party—doctrines which tend to estrangement of the States and certain collisions among the people. He then defined the "Personal Liberty bill" as a bill which was intended to nullify the Constitution, to abrogate all the compromises and to upset the general harmony and peace of the united Confederacy. Let the Republicans carry this State and they will surely pass that bill. They have done it whenever and wherever they have had the power. They did it in Ohio, and thus put into the hands of a County Sheriff the power to take a fugitive from the custody of the United States. He cited the recent case in Ohio where a fugitive slave was brought before a Judge by habeas corpus, and the Judge, though a Republican, declared the law to be unconstitutional. As a reward, the people, indignant that a Judge should dare to oppose their mandate, left him off of the ticket at the succeeding election. What a commentary is this upon the Judiciary of the country when a Republican Judge is put from office because he declined to be used as a tool in obeying the behests of a party. Can we have honesty on the bench for any length of time when a Judge is expected to register the ideas of his party rather than the decisions of the law? The same thing has occurred in Wisconsin, with a different result. There the Court being more decided in politics, was decided in its opinion in favor of the Liberty bill. The case was appealed to the Supreme Court of the United States, Wisconsin declined to appear—the Court decided against her, and to-day the State of Wisconsin is in a tumult and an uproar of divided opinion, as to whether she shall obey or not the mandate of the Supreme Court of the nation. She is rent from centre to circumference on the subject; in all elections, from that of a pound master to Governor, this question comes up, and every man has to define his position on the constitutionality of the Liberty bill. What is this but a species of South Carolina nullification?

[At this point a drunken gentleman in the broad aisle waved his hat, and said, "Zur, I be a Sprague man, and as I'm about to take a drink, I'll go out—Good night, Zur—and I'm for SPRAGUE, sure enough." The applause which followed the irresistibly comic air and attitude, was evidently refreshing to the audience and the speaker.]

Mr. BULLOCK resumed—What has been done and said in New-York by SEWARD? I haven't read his last speech, which, I am told, was quite moderate,—and, if so, for an evident purpose; but what has he said before at Rochester? Why, he tells us, there has got to be an irrepressible conflict—a struggle between the North and the South. It can't be ended—it must go on. One or the other must succumb. Either Slavery must come into Massachusetts, or Freedom must go into South Carolina, (unfortunate South Carolina.) Mr. SEWARD is a great man, a wise man, a good man—he's all powerful in his party, and what he says is law; and this, then, is the doctrine of the Republican Party. Then we have Mr. LINCOLN, the great Mr. LINCOLN, who is willing to serve the dear public in 'most any way. If he can't be President, he would take the Vice-Presidency; if he can't get that, he'll take anything that he can catch hold of; and he comes among us, not content with trying to convert the people of his own State—he attempts to teach us, and takes as his text, "A house divided against itself cannot stand." He says a nation cannot exist with Freedom and Slavery. I deny it. I deny Mr. LINCOLN's statement in toto. What does the man mean? Is not Spain in existence, and has she not the two within her borders? Is not Portugal a living nation, and is not the same case true with her? And have not these United States, by their existence, by their flourishing, prosperous and happy condition, put the lie upon Mr. LINCOLN's assertion? Yea, verily. Ah! my friends, in the days of yore, when a common danger menaced us, there was no such talk us this; neither was there such disturbance when the North found it for her interest to buy and sell slaves. These States are sovereign, each in themselves. [First applause.] Each one has the right to say for herself whether she will have Freedom or Slavery. Agitation only comes up when people decline to obey the laws, to respect the compromises and to observe the comities of brethren. Look at the disgraceful raid into Virginia, insignificant in numbers but pregnant with innumerable troubles.

[While the humble representative of the TIMES, at 3 o'clock in the morning, was writing up this delectable report, the door of room number 20 was mysteriously opened, and a delegation from the S. T. G.'s entered, and with characteristic politeness insisted upon our trying a glass of tip-top Bourbon and one of the best cigars this side of Havana. Who says we don't have a portion of the good in this world as well as the bad?] Well, the S. T. G.'s have left us, and we will resume our work. This raid, as Mr. BULLOCK remarked, was no more nor less than treason. To be sure, I don't approve of the great military parade which the Virginians indulged, or of the consequent excitement; but, Mr. President, this invasion was no more nor less than war. And what is more, the Republican Party approve of it and indorse it all. You all know what followed. Meetings were held, bells were tolled, and papers were draped in black. Certain gentlemen have endeavored to make political capital out of this, and have even justified the whole proceeding; and in their speeches at the John Brown meeting, the chief actor of the invasion was compared to our Divine Master, and the gallows pronounced equal to the cross. [Shame, hisses, &c.] He then came down severely on Mr. HELPER. Who was HELPER? We learn that he was a North Carolina clerk, who embezzled the funds of his employer. He then went to California, and returning to New-York, he comes out with this book, and, though a renegade Southerner, attempts to teach us Northerners how to act, and a new code of morals. [Laughter.] What is there in his book either desirable or valuable? To be sure the great part of it is statistics, but they are neither new nor striking. They can be found in all the census books of the land. What do they prove? Why, that a Free State advances faster,—in commerce, in civilization, in everything desirable,—than a Slave State does. [Applause.] We all knew that before. We see it in every field of labor and every page of history. But what I object to, is the commentaries of the man. They are haughty, bold, defiant, and revolutionary in their tendencies. Why, just look at him. A Southern renegade; he is not an Emancipationist, or a Colonizationist, or a Free Soiler, but an out and out immediate Abolitionist. That's what I say. I can't go him. [Applause.] He wants this done in violation of law and of the Constitution. He wishes no recompense given to the owner, as the British Government did, but he goes further, and wants to tax the owners $60 a head, and after the 4th of July, 1863, would make them pay $40 per annum. This Southern renegade [hisses] is not content with depriving them of their property, but would tax them in the round sum of $400,000,000. These doctrines are opposed to the law, opposed to the Constitution, opposed to the peace and comity of the nation, and tend to break it up. ["Good." "Shame."] A quarter of a century ago, this radical party undertook this job, and what is the result? What have they gained by all their angry discussions—by the profuse expenditure of means, and their elaborate speeches? How does it fare with the slave? Any better? [No, No.] On the contrary. Are the bounds of Freedom enlarged? Yes, they have Kansas, but they would have had Kansas anyhow, and while Freedom has got Kansas—[Hi, hi]—Slavery has Texas and New-Mexico. If it hadn't been for them Virginia, would have been free long ago. [Applause.] Missouri is fast becoming so—[Renewed applause]—and would have been free long since but for these men. Her interests demand it. Every natural cause is working for it. But the slave, poor fellow, he is worse off than ever. Thousands of them have been taken from the healthy and desirable plantations of Virginia, down to the unhealthy rice swamps of South Carolina. Harsh laws have been passed, and in some States they won't let them even meet at their places of worship, fearing that some of these Abolitionists may be around with the infernal free doctrines. [Slight applause.] The free negroes are in a dreadful state. Expelled from several States, some go to San Domingo, others to Canada, and others, the Lord knows where. I have been to Canada and seen at every dépôt crowds of these free negroes—poor, half-clothed, partially-fed devils, standing by the platform, shivering with the cold, and nothing for them to do. The Government is alarmed about them and don't know what to do with them. [Faint applause.]

In view of the history of the country and of the Constitution, do not the citizens of the whole country owe something to each other? Are we not all citizens? Did not common labor, common blood, common enterprise and suffering bring us a whole to our present glorious position? And is not each State sovereign within her own borders, all equally so? Cannot Rhode Island have such road laws, such poor laws as she chooses? Cannot she have freedom or Slavery as she may prefer? And why not Virginia? Personally I am opposed to Slavery. [Applause, "So are we."] I want to see the day when the sun of freedom shall gild every hill top and shine benignly on every field. ["Hi, hi," innumerable hats in the air and a summerset (see Webster) from a small boy in the middle aisle, who was immediately squelched by a larger boy.] But we must go to work in the right way. In all the Southern newspapers and Legislatures, and from their Representatives in Congress, we hear nothing but disunion—[hisses]—that dreadful word—and we know that the people of the South prefer disunion to the present alarming state of free talk. Now what we need is compromise. The North is strong and should be just, aye, even magnanimous. [Applause.] There are some disunionists among us, even in this loyal little State, but where would Rhode Island be to-day if a rupture of the bonds of union should take place? Here she is, a little bit of a State, bounded by three big ones, who would soon eat her up. What is it that protects her commerce and gives her courage to go forth into the vast ocean unappalled by danger? What encourages her manufactures and keeps from her depressing tariffs? Why, the broad flag of the Union, [applause,] without which she would be poor indeed. He then referred to the local troubles between Rhode Island and Massachusetts. In which case the former, though small, could go with equal dignity and power before the Supreme Court of the country, as could the proud and large State of Massachusetts. If, said he, one blow is struck, it will never be healed. The Union once ruptured can never be reunited. There is too much bad feeling already; the South is ready for it, and many at the North are drifting that way. Let us have better feeling—let us get rid of this estrangement, now so terrible. I have an abiding faith in the people of this country. I believe the vast majority of them are in favor of the Constitution and of Freedom, subservient to the law of the land. [Cheers.] I want to see the men of the land of GREENE strike hands again with the men of the land of MARION, in token of perfect amity. Let the North and the South, Massachusetts and South Carolina, labor as earnestly to perpetuate this glorious confederacy as they ever did to build it up. [Applause.] Our streets are filled with flags and banners. Not the flag of a State but the flag of our country, ["Long may she wave," three cheers, and great applause,] the symbol of glorious and memorable victories, yet I trust to be the flag of a country victorious over all sectional agitation and sectional alienation. We all desire the same end—we all work for it, and I know of no better way in which to aid its consummation than by voting on the 4th of April next for our own nominee, WILLIAM SPRAGUE, "the calico boy." [Great applause.]

The band discoursed sweet music, and a Mr. HAMLIN was introduced, who proceeded in a very hoarse voice to pitch into the correspondent of THE NEW-YORK TIMES. He assumed that some anonymous person had written several columns of political intelligence to the TIMES, all of which was directed at the Conservative-Republicans. The only particular thing which he mentioned, and which seemed to hurt his tender feelings, was, that your correspondent had sent a verbatim report of a Republican speech to the TIMES, and the Republicans understanding it was a good report, had the good sense to order 5,000 copies of it for dissemination through the State. However, to do the gentleman justice, I will say that having a very sore throat, and understanding that the TIMES' correspondent was still on hand, he desisted almost immediately from his premeditated speech, and digressed into the matters of more immediate interest, on which he had not prepared himself, and which, consequently, he would prefer not to have reported. If the Conservative-Republicans wish 5,000 copies of this report, which is almost as good as the other, they can, doubtless, be accommodated on the same terms.

While he yet spoke, Gen. VAN ZANDT, the big gun of this side, entered the hall. Cheers, shouts, hurrahs, yells, and hi-hi's were heard, hats in air and somersaults were noticed, and a grand welcome generally ensued. The gallant General made a rousing, roaring, side-splitting, story-telling, fun-loving, mirth-provoking, rip te doodendu campaign speech. It was jolly to hear—it was wonderful to behold. The audience were amazed, beside themselves, contented, deluded, enraged, flabbergasted, gaping, hurrahing, incited to patriotism, jealous of their country's honor, and so on through the alphabet. Tammany Hall, in its palmiest days, never beat it. Such enthusiasm, such miracles in the way of hat performances, and such peculiar demonstrations of applause I never saw before, and I wish to put on record my intense, unqualified admiration of ye jollie Generale'sunapproachable speeche.

The report and letters in your columns of the 29th and 30th are attracting great attention. The papers disagree about them, so do the voters; but all sides think the NEW-YORK TIMES manages to keep the start of its metropolitan brethren in the way of furnishing news from and for the people. HOWARD.

CORRECTION OF AN ERROR.

Special Dispatch from our own Correspondent.

PROVIDENCE, Monday, April 2.

The excitement is yet undiminished. The acrimony of the extreme partisan feeling exhibited on either side is the most rancorous and unconciliating I ever witnessed. All kinds of inducements are brought to bear upon any and every body to induce them to support one or the other of the nominations. No little of the excitement has been caused by the letters of the TIMES Correspondent, sowed broadcast as they have been over the State. They have set everybody to thinking and talking. The information contained in those letters, (and I refer more particularly now to the first two,) was derived from gentlemen of respectability of all parties. In the main, I find that my first impressions were correct. The only paragraph to which the conservatives take exception, and the one which has been taken as a text by every party paper in the place, was the one in which I referred to the murder of AMASA SPRAGUE. I was informed as a matter of current rumor, and as a fact which would probably influence the Irish vote, that Mr. SPRAGUE was killed by a couple of Irishmen named GORDON, who thus revenged themselves for alleged indignities offered to their families. This, if it were true, would undoubtedly have an influential bearing upon the Irish vote. But I am greatly annoyed to find that my information was entirely incorrect, and that the true cause of his murder was his interference with the business of a rum-shop carried on by the GORDONS, a statement of which appeared in one of the morning papers. Partisans can never be too careful in their statements, for they must know that if incorrect they surely will recoil.

Betting runs high. Large odds are offered by the Sprague men, who seem to have the most unbounded confidence in the favorable result of the election.

Carbuncles and Boils.
These torments of Job seem to be uncommonly prevalent at the present time. Like the volcano, Boils give issue to the foul and fiery contents of the deep interior. How much better it is to remove the causes of such suffering by stimulating the absorbents to healty activity through the agency of the PERUVIAN SYRUP, and to change the disordered secretions into health-giving elements.

Extract of a Letter from Rev. Richard S. Edes.
BOLTON, Mass., June 1, 1859.
Messrs. N. L. Clark & Co.

GENTLEMEN: For years I was a sufferer from boils, so that my life became wearisome through their frequent and persistent recurrence. I used five bottles of the Puruvian Syrup; since then I have had nothing of the kind. I attribute this improved state of my system entirely to the Puruvian Syrup, and I feel that I cannot express my obligations to it in terms too strong. For years I was one of the greatest sufferers.
Respectfully yours, RICHARD S. EDES.

TO PERSONS FOND OF A BEAUTIFUL PICTURE.
THE CELEBRATED LARGE ENGRAVING OF CHRIST AND HIS APOSTLES,
FROM THORWALDSEN'S IMMORTAL GROUP—SIZE 24 BY 32—AND A BEAUTIFUL BIBLE IN GILT,
FOR ONLY $2.
We compel the arts to give us mementoes of our departed friends, and we remember their virtues, and catch inspiration to perform good deeds from their smiles, but what parent has done as much for us as the fishermen of Galilee, the
STAR OF NAZARETH?
From Rev. Dr. Abel Stevens, Editor of New-York Christian Advocate and Journal.
* * * * The group is inclosed in an illumination of exquisite beauty and many finely delineated Scripture scenes, such as "John Preaching in the Wilderness," "The Last Supper," "Christ Blessing Little Children." There seems to be an increased disposition to provide a superior class of religious engravings for families. This example is one of the very best. It should adorn the walls of every Christian man's home.
From Rev. Dr. Prime, Editor of the N. Y. Observer.
* * * * One of the pictures hangs in our study, and we regard the work as eminently suitable for the walls of every Christian household.
Altogether this is the greatest triumph of art ever witnessed in this country. The religious Press speak in enraptured terms of the work, and recommend its introduction into every family in the land.
Agents wanted everywhere. $1 15 will secure a letter of agency, stating special terms, with one copy of the engraving. $4 50 will insure six engravings, postage free. Address, DAYTON & CO., American and European Engraving Warehouse, No. 37 Park row, N. Y.

I have all kinds of medicine in my store, but there is none that I can so cheerfully and truthfully recommend as your Bitters, for I know they have helped me beyond my expectation.
Yours respectfully, PHILO WILSON.

New-York, where he may be confidentially consulted, as usual, from 11 till 2 and from 4 till 8 in the evening; on Sundays from 11 till 2. Triesemar No. 1 effectually removes general and local debility, premature decay, spermatorrhœa and all the distressing consequences of excess; all physical impediments vanish like magic before its influence, thus rendering it invaluable to those about being married; even in the decline of life its invigorating powers are astonishing. DR. MAGNIN'S LUCINA CORDIAL, OR ELIXIR OF LOVE.—This delightful and positive invigorant of the human system is fast superseding all other remedies; in fact when its virtues become fully known it will be the only remedy in use. Its action on the nervous system and reproductive organs, is most extraordinary, allaying all over excitement, and infusing into the nervous organization that degree of tension which is requisite to give the human system the enjoyment of its full powers, both mentally and physically. As an appetizer it is equally remarkable; assimilated with the gastric juices of the stomach, it assists them in more readily dissolving all nutritious substances, and converting them into pure and wholesome blood; thus the digestion is improved, and the whole framework of man moves on in a more vigorous and harmonious manner thereby. Price $3 per bottle, or two bottles for $5. Principal office No. 203 Fulton-st., New-York.

The Hunterian Dispensary, No. 3 Division-st., New-York City, established in 1834, for the Preservation of Human Life. PRIVATE CONSULTATION.—Dr. Hunter has for thirty years confined his attention to diseases of a certain class, in which he has treated not less than fifty thousand cases, without an instance of failure. Book for nothing, that treats of the evil effects of early abuse and indulgence, is embellished with elaborate colored engravings, portraying every feature and phase of disease, exposes the fallacy of the ordinary modes adopted for the cure of local as well as hereditary maladies and gives the only safe and infallible remedy for expunging every trace of the virus from the system.

COURT OF DEATH.

THE GREAT ORIGINAL PAINTING OF THE COURT OF DEATH will open for exhibition at the COOPER INSTITUTE,

COMMENCING WEDNESDAY EVENING, APRIL 4.

This is the great master work of REMBRANDT PEALE, which has excited so much admiration throughout the country. It covers 312 square feet of canvas, and contains TWENTY-THREE LIFE SIZE FIGURES.

A FAC-SIMILE CHROMO-LITHOGRAPHIC ENGRAVING of the painting, which Mr. Peale certifies "is an accurate and admirable copy," executed by Sarony, Major & Knapp, has been published by the proprietor.

Instead of selling 5,000 of these at $5, the publisher proposes to sell 100,000 at $1 each. The mail orders for them heretofore have been so great, that the publisher was obliged to take his advertisement out of the City papers in order to be able to supply the demand. Duplicate plates are now completed, and the City as well as the country can now be supplied. Size 23 by 31 inches. It is believed that never before has so large and so beautiful an engraving been offered for so low a price. It forms a beautiful, attractive, and instructive parlor ornament.

Exhibition of the painting open from 3 to 5½ and 7 to 9½ o'clock. Descriptive lecture at 4 and 8.

Tickets 25 cents. Those who purchase an engraving will have free admission to the original.

The engravings may also be obtained of the publisher, G. Q. COLTON, No. 37 Park-row, New-York. Mail subscribers will add 12 cents for postage.

THE SUNDAY SCHOOL CONNECTED with the Central Presbyterian Church, Broome st., opposite Centre, will give a Grand Concert of sacred and secular music, on THURSDAY EVENING, April 5, 1860. The School will be assisted by the celebrated "Tremaine Family," under the direction of Mr. Wm. Tremaine, and also by little Martha Davies and several other young vocalists, under the direction of Mr. Waters. The programme will consist of solos, duetts, trios, choruses, &c., and will be found to be more than usually attractive. Mr. Schmersel will preside at the organ. Doors open at 7; to commence at 7½ precisely. Tickets 25 cents, to be obtained at the door on the evening of the concert. Proceeds for the benefit of the School.

CITY INTELLIGENCE.

[illegible] of Murphy, the Burglar.—Charles [illegible], the young man who some six weeks ago, in [illegible] with one Brenowski, a Pole, broke into [illegible] warehouse No. 540 Pearl-street, and jumped [illegible] the roof of the building in his effort to escape [illegible] the officers who had discovered him, died yes[illegible] morning at the New-York Hospital, in conse[illegible] of the injuries he then sustained. Murphy [illegible] under the care of House Surgeon Hull, and as [illegible] fractured limbs united properly and his constitu[illegible] was good, it was at one time believed that he [illegible] recover. Latterly, however, the discharges [illegible] his wounds have exhausted his system, and, at [illegible] time of his death, he had become worn away to a [illegible]ton. His wife, who is much older than himself, [illegible] been constant in her attendance on him. She [illegible]rts that the name Murphy is assumed, that her husband belongs to a very respectable family in Can[illegible], and that his brother now holds a responsible [illegible]tion in one of the City banks. Neither Murphy [illegible] the woman could be induced, however, on ac[illegible]t of the disgrace attaching to the matter, to re[illegible] the real name. Coroner Jackman held an inquest [illegible] the body. Deceased was 23 years of age.

Personal.—Madison-square is to be the scene of a matrimonial demonstration on Thursday next. The daughter of Mr. Vanderpoel, a retired merchant, [illegible] is brother of the ex-judge of that name, is to in[illegible] voluntarily and of her own accord, all the obli[illegible] of wedded life in common with a noted young [illegible]yer, who has recently returned from his travels in Europe. The event is just now the fashionable [illegible] Flora McFlimsy is in a state of absolute terror lest her new dress should not be ready, and all the un[illegible]ied ladies in the neighborhood, from the [illegible] [illegible]ing thirty down to the bread-and-butter misses, [illegible] permitted themselves to be thrown into a fear[illegible]dition of excitable gossip. The interesting event takes place at [illegible] o'clock on Thursday, as we have said, at the residence of the fair bride's father, [illegible]."

Billiards.—The second match between Dud[illegible] [illegible] and James Lynch, for $200, took place at the rooms of the former in Fulton-street, last evening. As in the previous contest, the score was 1,000 points up. This time Lynch was successful, he having vanquished his opponent by 14 points. As each of the parties have now won a match, a third encounter will undoubtedly occur before long. Until within the last 200 there was very little excitement, but from this time to the end it continued to be one of the most interesting matches within the memory of the oldest "cue handlers." Messrs. Phelan, Lake, White, Cleveland, Braisted, and most of the best players in the City, with about four hundred other spectators, were present.

Sudden Death of a Drunkard.—Late Sunday evening a middle-aged man, while sitting in the groggery No. 41 Mott-street, kept by Patrick Tulley, suddenly fell to the floor and expired in an instant. His body was removed to the Sixth Ward Station-house, where it was recognized as that of John Cole, a baker by trade, who has for some time subsisted on charity, and lived a vagrant's life. It is supposed that want of food and bad liquor have caused his decease. The rum-shop in which the occurrence transpired, as well as two other resorts in the vicinity of the same character, are kept, it is said, by one of the School Inspectors of the Sixth Ward.

Was there Another Victim?—The Albany Knickerbocker, of last evening, states that Wm. Van Dyck, a young man residing in Orange-street, was on board the sloop E. A. Johnson, when the murders were committed, and was probably a fourth victim. Van Dyck, it says, left his father's sloop, which trades between this City and Albany, upon which he had been for some time engaged, and shipped with Capt. Burr, just before his departure on the ill-starred voyage. The truth of this statement is doubted, however, as the names only of the four persons who have, from the first, been identified with the tragedy, appear on the shipping articles of the sloop.

Part of the Everett House to be Sold.—Nearly one-half of the Everett House, on Union-square, is announced to be sold to-day at public auction. The property comprises a portion of the estate of the late Anson G. Phelps. The present proprietors of the hotel have a lease of the premises for six years, and the property has to be sold subject to this lease, so that the sale will not at present interfere with the Hotel. The property is estimated at $150,000. The entire hotel commands a rent of $30,000, the lease having been taken at this figure for ten years.

The Journeymen House-Painters.—A mass meeting of the New-York Journeymen House-painters was held at Military Hall, in the Bowery, last evening, Mr. Patrick Keady filling the Chair. Seventeen shops were reported as paying $2 per day. Several speeches were made in favor of a more perfect system of organization for the protection of the rights of labor, and a number of new members were received by the payment of the usual fees.

The Great Bell.—Messrs. Schifflin, agents for the Bochum Cast Steel Works for this country, write to state that the bell now exhibited in the Park is not the largest of the kind ever made. The proprietors of the works in Prussia, who invented this method of casting steel bells, have made several considerably larger.

The Worth Monument is at last in a fair way of completion, as the granite for the railing around it reached the City on Saturday and was placed yesterday upon the ground. A very few weeks will suffice to render the obelisk as much a credit to the City, as it has heretofore been a disgrace.

Tammany Society.—There was a large attendance at the meeting of the Tammany Society last evening, I. V. Fowler in the Chair. Aldermen Peck, Henry, and one or two others were initiated. Nothing else but routine business was transacted.

Third Presbytery of New-York.

SEMI-ANNUAL SESSION AT THE MERCER-STREET CHURCH.

The semi-annual session of the Third Presbytery of New-York (New School) commenced in this City yesterday, at the Mercer-street Presbyterian Church. About forty members were present, two-thirds of whom were ministers. Rev. Walter Clarke, D. D., of the Mercer-street Church, was elected Moderator for the ensuing six months; and Revs. C. C. Wallace and E. W. French were chosen temporary Secretaries. On motion of Dr. Hatfield, the Presbytery went into a viva voce nomination of Commissioners to the next General Assembly, to be held at Pittsburgh on the third Thursday in May. The following gentlemen were put in nomination, and will be voted on to-day:

Ministers—Dr. Walter Clarke, Dr. Asa D. Smith, Dr. E. F. Hatfield, Dr. J. J. Owen, Revs. Dwight M. Seward, Wm. H. Babbitt.

Laymen—Chas. L. Doe, Jno. W. Sprague, Wm. H. Christie, Hiram B. Littell, Jno. G. Parker, Wm. C. Hart.

Several candidates for admission to the charge of the Presbytery were examined and sustained.

The list of Licentiates was then read by the Secretary, and inquiries were made relative to each one separately. The case of Carlton S. Horton, now dying of consumption in the Island of Madeira, was presented by Rev. Mr. French, and excited a good deal of interest. This young gentleman, who is represented to be a person of brilliant talents and rare Christian virtues, after spending his whole patrimony in educating himself for the ministry, and, when on the eve of entering upon his labors, was attacked with consumption, and compelled to go to Madeira in search of health, where he now remains in a dying and extremely destitute condition. His case had excited the sympathies of the United States Consul, Mr. Marsh, through whose liberality and kindness he had been supplied with many comforts which he would not otherwise have had, but Mr. French thought it was a shame that he should be allowed to depend upon the charity of strangers.

Other gentlemen testified to the rare qualities of Mr. Morton, and said that if they had been aware of his condition he should have had relief long before this. Nearly all present offered to contribute their mite to his relief, and agreed to bring the matter to the notice of their more wealthy friends. The case was finally referred to Revs. Mr. French and Sawyer for immediate action. It was stated that Mr. Morton entered the Union Theological Seminary of this City in the most robust health, and that the seeds of his disease were planted in his system while there, in consequence of the damp and foul atmosphere that pervades the basement of that institution.

The Presbytery here adjourned to 3 o'clock P. M.

At the afternoon session the candidates for licenses to preach presented themselves, and were examined by Drs. Smith, Clarke, Hatfield and others. The following are the names of the candidates, all of whom are students of the Union Theological Seminary: Alonzo D. Moore, Hiram D. Wrage, George B. Newcomb, D. Stuart Dodge, John S. Whitman, J. Allen Maxwell, Alfred S. Collins, John M. Forbes, Arthur T. Pierson. The result of the examination will be announced to-day, to which date, at 10 o'clock A. M., the session was adjourned.

Fatal Affray in a Bar-Room.

A MAN KICKED TO DEATH.

Soon after 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon, a man named Peter Hall was beaten to death in the liquor store kept by Herman Lohmann, at the northwest corner of Rutgers and Water streets. From the statements of parties who witnessed the occurrence, it appears that Hall, who is by occupation a ship carpenter and caulker, has for some time past led a very dissolute life, spending what little money he earned for liquor, and becoming very quarrelsome when under its influence. Yesterday he passed most of the day in the liquor shop in question, occupying himself in drinking and playing dominoes, and at the time of the affray which resulted in his death, he was much intoxicated. About 4 o'clock, one Patrick Murphy, a laborer employed on Nicholson's large box dry-dock, lying between Rutgers and Pike streets, in company with John McCarty, a fellow-workman, went into Lohmann's for a drink. At this time Hall was standing at the bar, and Murphy so [illegible] him that he made use of very abusive language. Murphy in turn became incensed, and an altercation ensued, which finally resulted in his receiving a blow from the drunken man. Murphy, who is a powerful fellow, retorted by knocking his assailant down, after which he stamped with his heavy boots upon his head and chest, inflicting such injuries that he died almost immediately, the occurrence having transpired in such a brief space of time that the bystanders had no chance to interfere. Murphy immediately started off, and, although the Police were quickly apprised of the murder, and a large force was immediately dispatched in pursuit of him, he has so far eluded their search. Deceased, much bruised and disfigured, was removed to the Station-house, and a physician having been called, he was examined and pronounced to be dead. An inquest will be held upon the body to-day. Hall was a Scotchman, 35 years of age, unmarried, and boarded in Rutgers-street, near Monroe. Murphy, the alleged murderer, resides with his wife and three children at No. 379 Cherry-street. He is a rather good-looking Irishman, 26 years of age, and is said to be of a quarrelsome disposition. The Police hope to effect his arrest.

Police Reports.

STILL ANOTHER ARREST IN THE COSGROVE CASE.

In January, 1859, a dispute occurred in a drinking-place in Fulton-street, between a number of well-known rowdies, and one of them named Patrick Cosgrove alias "Cockroach," was stabbed in the mélee which resulted. The injured man lingered along for several months, but finally died in July last. During his illness he repeatedly stated that he knew the name of his assailant, but persistently refused to disclose it, for the reason that he hoped to recover and take the law into his own hands. Just previous to the recent Charter election Ex-Councilman McCarty, of the Third Ward, was apprehended on a charge of having been implicated in the affray which caused Cosgrove's death, and now Barnett Coles, an oysterman, has been arrested on a bench-warrant upon a similar charge. The accused will be arraigned in the Court of General Sessions.

THE RESULT OF WAKING THE DEAD.

On Saturday night a number of Irishmen assembled at a house in Hammersley-street, near Bedford, to "wake" the dead body of a deceased acquaintance, according to the custom of their country, by means of potheen, dudeen and shillalah. They faithfully worked with this object in view until long after daylight on Sunday, when the result of their ardent spiritual exercises manifested itself in such discordant sounds that the peace of the neighborhood was disturbed. The noise having been heard by Officer Standish, of the Ninth Precinct, he entered the house to ascertain its cause, and found the mourners engaged in a fight over the coffin with clubs and knives, with which, so far, no serious injury had been done. The intestine feud was immediately staved at sight of the official, who was looked upon as the common enemy, and who soon received a severe beating at the hands of the belligerents. One Thomas Nelligan, who had made himself especially prominent in the attack, the officer sought to arrest, but the fellow ran out of the house and entered a three-story building near by, to the roof of which he ascended in his effort to escape. The officer followed the fugitive, who slid from the ridge pole down to the eaves, and the wood-work breaking, he was precipitated a distance of 10 feet to the roof of a shed, and rolling thence struck heavily on the pavement 15 feet below. He was picked up bruised and insensible, and after having received the attention of Police Surgeon Jones, who thinks that his injuries are mainly internal, he was moved to the Hospital for treatment.

CHARGED WITH MURDER.

Officer Rose, of the Third Precinct, yesterday apprehended a man named John G. Glynn, who is said to have murdered one Peter Naughton and his wife in Webster, Mass., on the 6th of November, 1856. The accused succeeded in escaping at the time the murders were committed and all trace of him was lost until within a few days. Justice Osborn committed Glynn to the Tombs, pending the arrival of the Massachusetts officers to conduct him to that State.

Coroner's Inquests.

SINGULAR ACCIDENT TO A CARTMAN.

Martin Dobscher, a young German laborer, employed by a gardener named John Miller, was driving with a load of manure down a steep hill in Broadway, near One Hundred and Twentieth-street last Saturday, when his horse becoming restive, he determined to detach him from the vehicle and allow it to roll down the hill of itself. As he held one of the shafts to direct the wagon's course, a large stone suddenly arrested further progress, and the shaft striking the deceased, caused him to fall. He was found some time afterwards quite insensible and badly injured about the head, and in spite of every effort to restore him to consciousness he expired. Coroner Schirmer held an inquest at the late residence of deceased in Seventy-third-street, corner of Eleventh-avenue.

RUN OVER BY A RAILROAD CAR.

Mr. E. G. Lombard, a passenger by the Erie Railroad train which arrived late on Saturday night, died at the New-York Hospital on Sunday, in consequence of injuries sustained under the following circumstances: Soon after the locomotive had been detached, and before the cars had reached the dépôt, Mr. Lombard, with several other passengers, left the train and walked on the track in advance of the cars. Fearing that they would overtake him, he stepped upon the adjoining track of the New-Jersey Railroad Company, but a train was also advancing upon that track, and to avoid it he returned to the Erie track. At that moment one of the cars came in contact with him, knocking him down, fracturing his right leg and lacerating it frightfully. Coroner Jackman held an inquest, which resulted in a verdict of "Death from injuries accidentally received."

UNBURIED DEAD BODIES.

The body of a sailor who shot himself on board of the ship Niagara, on Saturday afternoon, may still be seen lying in the back area of the Second Ward Station-house, enveloped in its clothing and a mattress on which it was taken from the vessel. The proper authorities promised to have it removed early on Sunday morning, but it has been allowed to remain where it was left, to the great annoyance of the fifty policemen who are obliged to make it their sleeping quarters for the night. Yesterday it had become so offensive as to nauseate a number of the Policemen, and they were obliged to remove it into the back area. Capt. Weed and his force naturally express much indignation at the Coroner in converting their quarters into a dead-house.

INJURED BY THE MACHINERY ON THE NORTHERN LIGHT.

James Kelly, a young man who had been employed as a hand on board the steamship Northern Light, was admitted to the New-York Hospital a month ago, suffering from injuries to his head which he received while engaged in cleaning the machinery of the vessel, and from the effects of which he yesterday died. Coroner Jackman investigated the case.

Fires.

IN A SEWING-MACHINE MANUFACTORY.

A fire occurred about 11 o'clock last evening, from some unknown cause, in a rear room on the fourth floor of the building No. 135 Mercer-street, the two upper stories of which are used as a manufactory for Whitney & Lyon's sewing-machines. The apartment in which the fire was discovered was nearly filled with finished machines, packed in cases for transportation, and the amount of loss upon them by heat and water is estimated at $1,500. The fire did not extend below the upper story, but the machinery of Eoff & Shepard, silversmiths, who occupy the second floor, was much damaged by water. A manufactory of gas fixtures in the basement, of which Mr. Geo. H. Kitching is proprietor, was also flooded, and the stock much injured in consequence. The total loss is probably about $2,500, and all the occupants had their property fully insured.

SUSPICION OF ARSON.

On Sunday night, between 11 and 12 o'clock, Officer Rosenburgh, of the Twenty-sixth Precinct, while passing through Clinton-street, discovered smoke issuing from the grocery store No. 19, kept by a German named Strauss. Having procured aid, he forced open the door, and soon extinguished the fire with a few buckets of water. An examination of the premises, after the fire was put out, disclosed the fact that a large lot of kindling wood, thoroughly saturated with kerosene oil, had been placed in close vicinity to the spot where the fire was first discovered, and if this had been ignited the destruction of the building and the sacrifice of many lives would probably have resulted therefrom. The facts were at once communicated to the Fire Marshal, who has commenced an investigation of the affair.

CITY GOVERNMENT.

BOARD OF SUPERVISORS.

THE MAYOR'S BILLS FOR ADVERTISING NOT TO BE PAID—CONDITION OF THE RECORDS IN THE REGISTER'S OFFICE—VETOES OVERRULED.

At a regular meeting of this Board yesterday, Mr. Blunt offered a resolution appropriating $250 to repair the damage which had been done by overflowing of the Croton water to a number of volumes of records in the Register's office. Referred. Mr. Blunt said that he had always objected to the introduction of the Croton in the Comptroller's office, and for the very reason that some accident or carelessness might entail most serious damage to the records, and the propriety of his course had now been justified.

A communication was received from the District-Attorney, remonstrating against certain provisions of the New Police act now under consideration in the Legislature, which propose the appointment of an attorney and assistant to the Police, contemplating, he apprehended, an Attorney-in-chief and assistants for each Police district. This would, in his judgment, seriously interfere with due administration of justice. The communication was accompanied by a remonstrance, prepared for presentation to the Legislature, in which the reasons for his objections were set forth at great length; and a resolution offered by Mr. Kennedy, stating that the Supervisors united with the District-Attorney in his remonstrance to the Legislature against the passage of the present Police bill, was adopted.

The veto of the Mayor on the insertion of $150,000 in the tax levy, for the erection of court rooms for the County Courts, was taken up. The appropriation passed unanimously, in spite of his Honor's objections.

A second veto against the appropriation of a room in the Hall of Records for the use of the Register was returned to the Committee on County Affairs.

A report of the Committee on Printing and Stationery was received. It concluded with a resolution that the Board decline to authorize the payment of a bill rendered by the Daily News, to the amount of $692 80, for publishing, by directions of the Mayor, "papers which were before him for approval," on the grounds that publication was never authorized by the Supervisors, and that no appropriation for such expense had been inserted in the tax bill; and further, that a continuance of this advertising in the four papers selected by him at such prices would entail an annual expense of over $60,000, which, if paid from county charges, would leave a serious deficit in the incidental expenses for printing and stationery belonging to the county. One instance was cited in the report where the advertising of a bill for $9 cost more than four times the amount of the bill itself; and another, wherein a bill for $96 was presented for advertising a report in favor of remitting a personal tax. The report and resolution were adopted unanimously.

The Board declined to pay a bill of Banks Brothers of $18 for books furnished by order of George T. Maxwell, Clerk of the Superior Court, for the reason that the Judges had made no requisition for the books, and the Clerk had no right to order them without such authority.

Several reports for the relief of parties erroneously assessed, were disposed of, and a number of small bills were ordered paid, after which the Board adjourned to meet again on Monday next at 2½ P. M.

BOARD OF ALDERMEN.

NO QUORUM.

In consequence of the departure of a number of the members of the Board of Aldermen for Albany yesterday, there was no meeting last evening.

BOARD OF COUNCILMEN.

PAWNBROKERS TO BE CHECKED—PROTEST AGAINST THE REMOVAL OF THE CITY HALL—APPROPRIATION FOR THE CENTRAL PARK LAID OVER—NOT DOWN IN THE PROGRAMME.

At the regular meeting of the Board of Councilmen last night, a resolution tending to the reduction of the interest now exacted by pawnbrokers on sums less than $25 was adopted, as was a resolution directing the Counsel of the Corporation to prepare a remonstrance against the passage of a bill now before the Legislature providing for the removal of the City Hall to Madison-square. The Committee on Street Cleaning was also required to report whether the interests of the City in making contracts for cleaning the streets would not be best secured by a division of the City into small districts.

The Mayor sent in a communication, announcing to the Board the decease of Mr. Isaac Townsend, one of the Governors of the Almshouse, and recommended that proper measures be taken to testify appreciation of his public and private virtues. The Chair appointed Messrs. Van Tine, Bogert and Hall as a Committee to attend to the obsequies of the deceased.

The report of the Corporation Attorney for the month of March presents a total of receipts of $626 97, being the amount collected for penalties for violations of Corporation ordinances.

A new site was ordered to be selected for the Seventh District Police; the present one, in Gouverneur-street, being exceedingly damp and unhealthy.

A large number of "general orders" were concurred in, but there was nothing of special public interest among them. During the reading of one—a report in favor of paving Tenth-street, from Fourth-avenue to the East River, with Belgian pavement—an elderly gentleman, a property-holder on the line of the street, appeared within the bar, and approaching the reader, demanded to see the petition on which the report was founded. Respect for his age induced the President of the Board to deal quietly with him; and the venerable Sergeant-at-Arms (Mr. Slidell) was directed to remove him from inside the bar. He was intensely excited at the idea that he could not be heard openly in opposition to this proposition, which, he claimed, was a swindle on property-holders. Finally, by the persuasion of Mr. Green, Messenger to the Board, who assured him that he would be heard before the Committee, he was induced to retire. The report was adopted, so the gentleman will not have an opportunity of presenting his objections.

The communication from the Commissioners of the Central Park, asking an appropriation for the current year of $833,000, to be provided for by the issue of stock, excited much discussion. A motion was made by Mr. Hogan to refer the matter to the Committee on Alms-House, but the document was finally referred to the Committee on Finances.

The remonstrance from the Common Council against the passage of the Railroad bills now before the Legislature, was laid over.

The Board then adjourned until next Monday, at 5 P. M.

GOVERNORS OF THE ALMHOUSE.

THE DEATH OF MR. ISAAC TOWNSEND.

A special meeting of the Board of Ten Governors was convened at the Rotunda yesterday, to take action on the death of Isaac Townsend, a Governor since the Board was organized in 1849, excepting one year, during which he was necessarily absent. All the members excepting Gov. Dugro were present. Gov. B. F. Pinckney was in the Chair, and opened the proceedings by alluding to the sudden demise of Mr. Townsend, pronouncing an appropriate eulogy upon the character of the deceased.

Governor Wm. J. Pinckney, after a few feeling remarks, introduced the following resolutions:

Whereas, This Board is again called to mourn the demise of one of its members; of one who was endeared to us, his colleagues, by his noble and generous qualities, whose early and consistent devotion to the duties of his official station had secured so honored and enviable a position in the community, and

Whereas, It is proper and right that we, his associates, should express our sympathy and condolence with the family and friends of deceased in this sad bereavement, therefore

Resolved, That the Board of Almshouse Governors tender the widow and family of the late Isaac Townsend our sincere sympathy for the loss they have sustained in the death of a kind husband, father and companion; and while this Board views the decrees of Providence as inscrutable, in thus removing from a life of usefulness and activity one who has contributed so much of sound judgment and practical experience in the early organization of this Board, as well as in many other associations of life, we most earnestly commend them to the care of Him who "disposes all things," who has promised to be a "father to the fatherless," and who is the "widow's God."

Resolved, That the many virtues of the late Mr. Townsend have endeared him to us; that we shall ever cherish his memory; and long after the sod becomes green over his last resting place, we will remember his noble character, and endeavor to emulate his virtues.

Resolved, That this Board will attend the funeral rites of deceased, and wear the usual badge of mourning.

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions, duly authenticated, be transmitted to the family of the deceased.

Gov. Smith said that he had been associated with the deceased for several years, and that a purer and more conscientious man he had never met. In his public capacity as a Governor he was above suspicion, and there were none who could say aught against him. He was a kind and indulgent father, a sincere and faithful friend. Gov. Smith moved that on Wednesday, when the funeral will take place, all business in the Department will be suspended, which was carried.

Eulogies were thus pronounced by Governors Gunther, Oliver and Moloney, when the resolutions were adopted and the Board adjourned.

COST OF CLEANING THE STREETS.

The following statement from the City Inspector's Department for the month ending March 31, will show what it is now costing to clean the streets of the City. It is but fair, however, to say that this heavy expense is increased by reason of the accumulation of the dirt of months, the removal of which has just been commenced, and that when this is disposed of, the expense of keeping the streets in decent order will be much reduced:

		Cost.
Sweepers employed	369	$3,125 62½
Days' work sweeping	2,083¾
Loads manure removed	10,885	4,653 27
Loads dirt and rubbish re'd	13,913
Loads ashes, &c., removed	11,153	2,538 80
Total loads removed	35,951	$10,317 69½

THE DEPARTMENTS.

THE CROTON AQUEDUCT.

The bids for the construction of a number of sewers were opened yesterday at the office of the Croton Board, and awarded as follows: That for the sewer in Second-avenue, to and through Forty-seventh-street to Third-avenue, and in Third-avenue, from Forty-seventh-street to a point midway between Forty-fifth and Forty-sixth streets, and also in Forty-eighth-street—was awarded to W. Gallagher, the lowest of seven bidders. He gives sureties in $5,000. The contract for the sewer in Second-avenue, from Thirty-ninth-street to Forty-first-street, was awarded to J. Bowen, the lowest bidder out of five. Sureties for $3,000 were given by him. That for the sewer in Sixth-avenue, from Forty fourth to Forty-seventh-street, for which there were three bids, was awarded to J. Crowley, who gave sureties in $2,000. That for the sewer in Fourth-avenue, commencing at Forty-seventh-street, thence to Forty-sixth-street, and through that street to a point within 60 feet of the Fifth-avenue, for which there were nine bids, was awarked to J. Bowen. He gives surety for $3,000.

Owing to the late hour at which the bids were opened, and the great press of business on the Department yesterday, the calculations were not made regarding the amount of each contract.

Besides those interested in the opening of these contracts, there were hundreds in attendance who desired to obtain employment on the public works, yesterday being the time fixed for the resumption of operations. Owing to the necessary absence of Dr. Rollins, the Water Purveyor, no gangs for repairing streets had been organized, and in all probability this kind of work will not be commenced until next Monday. Sprinkling the streets is to be resumed to day, and parties desiring licenses aided in crowding the rotunda. Licenses were granted to 57, who pay three cents for each hundred gallons of water used.

The Water Police, too, appeared (as is required by their instructions) to make their reports. This force is composed of twelve men, whose duty it is to traverse the City within the districts assigned to them, to report the erection of new houses, any violations of the laws regulating the use of the Croton, as also any damage or breakage which may occur to the pipes or hydrants. Their reports are presented daily at 12 M., and these officers together with the outsiders present combined made an assemblage not often seen in the office.

RECEIVER OF TAXES.

The receipts of taxes, interest and arrears of Croton water rents for the week ending Saturday, 31st, were as follows: Taxes, $22,820 14; interest on arrears, $1,422 62; Croton water, $239 20—showing a slight increase over the receipts of last week.

LAW REPORTS.

Murders at Sea.

THE ALLEGED HOMICIDES ON BOARD THE BARK ANNA—U. S. COMMISSIONER'S COURT—BEFORE G. F. BETTS.

Hires, the second mate of the American bark Anna, who is charged with causing the death of several colored seamen of that vessel on a voyage from South America to Falmouth, England, was further examined yesterday on one of the six charges which have been made against him.

Richard R. Roseman was called: I did not see any one on deck but the defendant Johnson, and the man at the wheel; I was forward of the foremast when I heard the scuffling; went after wood; the sail-room was on the starboard side, forward, perhaps twenty feet from where I was standing; I heard the noise before I walked towards it; there was a movement of feet and hands; heard no voices; the door of the sail-room was open—it slid forward—and I looked in; the room was about ten feet square; the defendant and deceased were not more than two feet from the door; saw defendant thrusting his knee in deceased's stomach; did not see them come out; next saw deceased go by the galley window about two hours after; saw the defendant between four and five P. M. going aloft; I thought the beating was very cruel; did not think it my duty to go and ask the man how much he was injured; think I saw Johnson aloft after that in the afternoon of same day, between one and three o'clock, in the maintop; did not notice what he was doing, and did not see him come down; the next I saw him, he was hanging by the main sheet; I stopped to look at him for a moment, and the captain told me to go on; I drew a bucket of water, and afterwards went to him and asked him if he knew me; he tried to say "Charles;" blood was running out of the corners of his mouth, and his tongue was hanging out; the weather was not cold; I went about in my shirt sleeves; deceased was looking aft, and rolling his head about and heaving his body from side to side; it was blowing hard, and there was a bad sea on; I attempted to carry him away, but I was not strong enough; I had been sick; two men were laid up and complained of fever and ague, and the other was laid up from beating; his name was John Tuttle. [Defendant here exclaimed in a low voice, "You lying ———, if you don't tell the truth I'll burst your head for you."] William Pomeroy had then been laid up less than a week; the Captain had the wheel—we were short-handed; the Captain took the man down into his cabin, and I took the wheel; I could not see into the cabin from where I stood at the wheel; I saw Johnson alive in the cabin; went down for water, the tanks were in aft; I set the bucket down and tried to get the man somewhere; he was lying on the cabin floor; in fifteen minutes afterwards I went down again, and asked him if he knew me; he stared at me but could not speak; in fifteen or twenty minutes more the Captain told me he was dead; heard him speak no intelligible word after the beating in, the sailroom; he tried to pronounce "Charles;" the crew called me "Charley," although that was not my name; did not see deceased fall from aloft—only heard he fell; I heard deceased's voice in the forecastle; he talked as if he was choked; I had no difficulty with defendant, but he had difficulty with me; it was about the slush-lamp, and he threatened to "put his boots into my guts;" that was the only difficulty I had with him; I did not say I would be even with the defendant because of this; have no feeling of enmity against the defendant, and have not expressed any.

The case was here adjourned until 11 o'clock to-day.

General Sessions.

THE JURY IN SHEPHERD'S CASE UNABLE TO AGREE AND DISCHARGED—OPENING OF THE APRIL TERM BY THE RECORDER.

After having been locked up forty-two hours, the jury in the case of James Shepherd, on his second trial for murder and arson, came into Court yesterday morning and stated that they were still unable to agree, and that there was no prospect of a consummation so much to be desired; whereupon Judge Russell dismissed them, and Shepherd was returned to the Tombs to be tried a third time on a speedy occasion.

The April term of the Court was then opened by Recorder Barnard. Owing to the fact that a Grand Jury was in session in the Oyer and Terminer, (two grand inquests at one time in the same county being contrary to law,) the gentlemen summoned to this Court as Grand Jurors were ordered to attend in two weeks, and dismissed to that time.

William Anderson, indicted for burglary in the first degree, in entering the dwelling-house of Mr. Henry Carll, No. 11 Thomas-street, and stealing $91, pleaded guilty to an attempt at burglary in the third degree, and was sentenced to two years and six months in the State Prison.

George Armstrong and Thomas Williams, indicted for burglary in the first degree, in entering the dwelling-house of Daniel Lohfeln, No. 85 Bedford-street, and stealing $65, on March 10, pleaded guilty to an attempt at grand larceny, and was remanded for sentence.

William Cavanagh pleaded guilty to petit larceny, and was remanded.

William Castor pleaded guilty to an attempt at burglary in the third degree, and was sent to the House of Refuge.

Erastus Downing and John Munson pleaded guilty to an attempt at burglary in the third degree, and were sent to the Penitentiary for six months.

Court of Oyer and Terminer.

COMMENCEMENT OF THE APRIL TERM—A GRAND JURY IMPANNELED.

Judge Hogeboom opened this Court yesterday, with a fair prospect of trying several murder and manslaughter cases—the long-tarrying case of McDonald, for the killing of Virginia Stewart, in Broadway, not being among them. The following gentlemen were impanneled as a Grand Jury:

Jas. W. Churchill, foreman.
John C. Hunt,
John Petigrew,
Ambrose K. Ely,
Willard Phelps,
Wm. H. Appleton,
F. Lawrence,
Alex. Rankin,
Frank L. Allen,
G. R. Lockwood,
Sam'l Reeve,
G. B. Billerwell,
Sam'l Millbank,
Barnet L. Solomon
Malancthon Burr,
John N. Olcott,
Wm. W. Wright.
John Dunham,

The Judge then proceeded to charge the Grand Jury on the several points required by the statute. During his address one member of the Grand Inquest, Mr. Geo. B. Billerwell, fell to the floor in a fainting fit and was removed from the Court. No case being ready for trial, a recess was taken till to-day.

Habeas Corpus to Obtain Possession of a Child.

The Application of Phoebe Ann Holmes.—The particulars of this case were given in the Times of March 24.

The applicant is a colored woman, and is alleged to be a servant in a house of prostitution in this City. The respondent, John T. Brown, is in the employment of a City Express Company, as porter. The child was conceded by both parties to be illegitimate. The father now had the care of the child, which was in New-Jersey, in the custody of a friend, the father paying its expenses.

Justice Sutherland finally held that the case was one resting in the discretion of the Court to make such order as was for the best interest of the child. As it appeared that the father was best able to support the child, and that he had well taken care of it hitherto, the writ was dismissed, and the child remanded to the hands of Brown, the respondent and father.

Stephen Reed for relator; Delaney & Genet for respondent.

BROOKLYN INTELLIGENCE.

Political.—The charter election, which takes place to-day, bids fair to be an exciting one, and doubtless a respectable vote will be polled. There are three "department" offices to be filled, viz.: Collector of Taxes and Assessments, Street Commissioner, and Commissioner of Repairs and Supplies. For these offices there are four tickets in the field—one Republican, two Democratic, and one, the "Eclectic" or American, composed of the Democratic and Republican candidates. An unusual amount of political labor has been performed during the past week, particularly by the candidates and their friends of the respective wings of the Democratic Party, and much bad blood has been created, threatening to produce a general row. Several collisions of a petty kind took place last evening—one, at McCarty's bar-room, just at the rear of the City Hall, bid fair at one time to be serious in its results. But the prompt action of the Police in arresting the principals in this disturbance rendered the attendance of a Coroner unnecessary. Last evening the "Mozart Hall" wing held a mass meeting at the corner of Grand and Second streets, E. D., when the principal orator of the occasion was Mayor Wood. The announcement of his name brought together a large crowd of people, representing all parties. The managers of the meeting fortunately invoked the aid of a special police force, and the numerous turbulent spirits were kept in check, so that no serious disturbance occurred. The meeting, of course, was enthusiastic. Besides the "Department" offices to be filled, there are the following Ward officers to be elected: An Alderman in the even enumerated and an Assessor in the odd enumerated Wards, and a Supervisor and Constable in each Ward. The Democrats are more or less split up in every Ward. The Republicans being united, they expect to elect their "Department" ticket and a sufficient number of Aldermen to secure a majority in the Common Council. Whether their expectations will be realized or not can only be ascertained after the votes are counted to-night. The police arrangements for the day are ample for the protection of all persons who wish to approach the polls.

New Railroad Routes.—A rail track is being laid by the City Railroad Company, through Classen-avenue, to connect the Greenpoint and Myrtle-avenue routes. Cars will be placed on the new route May 1, on and after which all of the Greenpoint cars will pass through Classon and Myrtle avenues, and Fulton-street to the Ferry, and cars will be run direct from Fulton Ferry, through Fulton and Sands streets and Flushing-avenue to Broadway. This change is to be made so as to enable the residents of the Eastern District to reach the City Hall without changing cars or having to walk seven or eight blocks.

The Injunction.—The argument on the injunction obtained by Alfred Clock, to restrain the Common Council from appropriating $20,000, or any other sum, for the use of the Special Committee on Ferries, took place yesterday afternoon, in the City Court, before Judge Culver, after which the papers were submitted, and a decision will be rendered to-day.

Mortality.—During the week ending Saturday last there were 111 deaths in Brooklyn, classified as follows: Men, 16; women, 27; boys, 36; girls, 32. Adults, 43; children, 68. Males, 52; females, 59. Colored persons, 2. There were 16 deaths by consumption and 12 by scarlet fever.

Fire.—At 8½ o'clock last night, a pottery, at the foot of Second-street, Greenpoint, was damaged to the extend of $800.

New-Jersey.

Explosion at the Tunnel.—Joseph Harnden, one of the workmen at the tunnel, yesterday morning went to the powder chest, in which there were two kegs of powder with the heads out, for the purpose of obtaining a supply for blasting purposes. As he was leaning over a spark fell from the lamp which was attached to the top of his hat and ignited the powder, which exploded with such force as to throw him near 30 yards. He was shockingly mutilated and it is feared that his injuries will prove fatal. ....The recent strike at the tunnel has terminated, all the men having been paid up to to the first of March. About 150 men are now at work at the eastern approach and at shafts Nos. 3, 4 and 5.

Commitments to the City Prison.—City Marshal Ellis, of Jersey City, reports that 156 persons were committed to the City Prison for the month ending March 31, on the following charges: Drunk and fighting, 3; drunk and disorderly, 40; drunk, 51; stealing, 10; suspicion of stealing, 6; disorderly, 5; assault and battery, 15; destitute, 2; vagrancy, 10; threatening violence, 1; playing cards, 3; rape, 1; suspicion of murder, 1; malicious mischief, 7. The nativity of the parties was as follows: Ireland, 98; Scotland, 3; Germany, 5; United States, 36; England, 9; Switzerland, 1; France, 2; Patagonia, 1; Colored, 1.

The Spray Mystery.—A neckhandkerchief, supposed to contain spots of blood, was found in the cabin of the schooner Spray yesterday morning. Mr. Jelliffe, counsel for the Government in the case of Jackaloo, has received information that on the night of Thursday, the 15th of March, while the Spray was lying off the Norwalk Islands, the captain of a sloop heard the cry of "Murder" on board the Spray, and the report of firearms. He also heard a man cry out "Open the cabin door." Mr. Jelliffe states that the captain of this sloop is to be present at the investigation to-day before Commissioner Vroom, in Jersey City.

The Grave and Coffin Case.—The second trial in the case of Christian Yost vs. Edward Hope, Jr., of Jersey City, in the tenement grave and coffin case, was to have taken place yesterday, before Recorder Bedford. Owing to engagements of plaintiff's counsel, an adjournment was had for two weeks.

Morris Canal.—Water has been let into the Morris Canal, and active preparations are making for the resumption of navigation. During the past Winter the Company has made extensive improvements.

Note from Dr. Peaslee.

To the Editor of the New-York Times:

In your issue of Saturday last, I find the statement that I have resigned the Chair of Surgery in the Medical Department of Bowdoin College from "dissatisfaction with the management" of that institution. This statement is entirely incorrect, and does injustice both to my former colleages and to the college itself. I am not aware of any change in its management; and I have resigned solely because I can no longer incur the inconvenience of absence from the City.

E. R. PEASLEE, M. D.

Destructive Fire on Fishkill Mountains.—Early on Saturday morning the woods on the North Beacon Mountain caught fire, as is supposed from the carelessness of a gunning party. The flames spread rapidly until night-fall when they covered an area of nearly one thousand acres. At one time it was feared that the village of Matteawan would be destroyed, and at the ringing of the alarm bell the citizens turned out en masse to check the progress of the fire. This they succeeded in accomplishing after great exertions. Besides the standing trees, 200 cords of cut wood were consumed.

Bridge Burned.—A bridge of eighty feet span, and about thirty feet above a small stream on the Harlem railroad, near Hillsdale, was burnt yesterday (Monday.) The passengers will for a day or two be exchanged into trains on opposite sides of the opening. Another bridge will be put up complete in two or three days. Arrangements are made so that the detention for even that time will be trifling. The loss to the Company is two or three thousand dollars.

Dr. Henry G. Clerk, City Physician of Boston, publishes a card pronouncing the statement of the Coroner's Jury in the Westford vaccination cases, that the matter furnished by him was originally bad, "grossly libelous, and in every respect false and without foundation." His card is fortified by the testimony of medical men conversant with the facts in the case.
